Death Wipes Out Lives Of Four Innocent New York Secretaries

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — The bright and penetrating morning sun made a perfect setting for a day in which Mary Anne Reinisch had so many expectations. There was a promotion in the offing.

She bolted from the breakfast table as her parents and younger sister watched her race into the womanly flurry of last minute preparations for work. It was 7:30 a.m. Wednesday.

One hour later, Mary Anne and three other girls lay dead from a gunman's bullets in a state office building where they worked. Their assailant was dead also.

Linda Heads For Job

While Mary Anne, 27, was putting the finishing touches on her hair and makeup, Linda Willis, 10 miles away in suburban Waterford, jumped into the family automobile with her mother, Mrs. Mary Willis.

The two crossed the Mohawk River, turned south and headed toward Albany and the complex of modern state office buildings where both were employed.

Patty Chromik, 22, arose late and shortly after 7:30 a.m. was seated at the breakfast table with her family. The one-story brick house is within walking distance of the office complex. Patty drove her own car to work.

Bride Of Three Months

A few minutes before the other three set out for work, Sandy Peters, 24, a bride of three months, was whisking along the New York State Thruway heading with her husband from their Amsterdam home toward Albany.

All four girls came from middle-class homes in quiet residential sections. The homes were well-kept, the lawns well manicured.

Miss Reinisch had worked in the state unemployment office since 1960. Sandy Peters had been a senior stenographer for the state Labor Department since 1966. Miss Chromik began with the Labor Department as a stenographer in 1965 and Miss Willis had been a typist for the department since 1968.

New Job In Sight

Wednesday morning, Mary Anne was to meet her new boss and satisfy a dream one of her coworkers said she had talked about for many months—becoming a senior stenographer and working for one man.

Just back from vacation, she was somewhat tired after a late night of visiting old friends. But she was excited as well, family members related. She told her parents she wanted to be at work at 8:20 a.m. instead of the usual 8:30.

Linda Willis was a well-traveled "Army brat" whose father was a military career man.

Junior Prom Queen

She was the 1966 queen of her junior prom at nearby Waterford-Halfmoon High School and had attended schools in Florida and Japan as a result of her father's travels. A girl-next-door type, she was a cheerleader, a member of the pep club and a yearbook staffer.

Patty Chromik dated several boys, but none steadily. Friends said she was petite, attractive and sported beautiful, dark, shoulder length hair.

Several of her teachers commented that Patty was a nice girl and a mailman in the neighborhood said he remembered her as a "quiet girl, a very pretty girl."

Beneath her picture in the Lynch High School 1964 yearbook was this caption: "Her ways are ways of pleasantness. And all her paths are peace."

Slayer Kills Himself

The fifth character in the grisly scenario was the man who police say took the lives of the four girls, then turned his hunting rifle on himself.

Joe White was employed by the state as a $12,000-a-year senior administrative analyst.

One of his co-workers, Francis Lochner, said, "He was quiet, reserved, but he went with us to coffee breaks and kidded with the girls."

A close acquaintance of Miss Reinisch said she believed

White didn't associate much with girls: "He's just not the type you'd expect to date much."

White was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Blank of Albany. He had his name changed legally from Blank to White several years ago.

On Leave Of Absence

White had been on a leave of absence from his state job for the past six weeks with a stomach ailment. He returned to get his paycheck Wednesday.

By 8:15 a.m., the girls were arriving at the office building.

Mary Anne Reinisch made her way to the fourth floor state division of unemployment office, one floor below where the other three worked.

Standing at the front of the fifth floor Labor Department offices was White.

The tall, quiet, 25-year-old man wasn't noticed by many people, nor did anyone pay much attention to the raincoat slung over his arm. He had been seen with the coat many times before.

Rifle Concealed

This time it concealed a rifle. He had taken it to work in a box wrapped in Christmas gift paper.

Down on the fourth floor, Mary Anne chatted a bit with a close colleague, Cathy Barone, of nearby Guiderland.

Upstairs, Patty, Linda and Sandy had taken their places at their desks.

At 8:25 a.m., Francis Lochner looked up when he heard a loud bang. He said he saw a man standing in front of Linda Willis' desk, a rifle in his hands.

The gun swung around, Lochner said, and more shots were fired. The gunman walked to the desks of Sandy Peters and Patty Chromik, firing a single blast at each. They died instantly.

"Lock Your Doors"

"Lock your doors and remain in your offices, a man with a gun is at large," a voice crackled over a loudspeaker system.

On the fourth floor Mary Anne Reinisch stood just inside the door, nearly at the end of her chat with Cathy Barone.

"He walked just one step inside the door ... just one step ... and God, he fired," Mrs. Barone recalled. Mary Anne lay dead at her feet.

Moments later, a final shot was heard. White's body was found at the bottom of the second floor stairwell. He had fired a bullet into his head.

Jordan Troops Break Guerrilla Resistance

5,000 Enemy Soldiers Reportedly Surrender

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Fierce Jordanian army attacks were reported to have broken Palestinian resistance in northern Jordan today and Amman radio said 5,000 guerrillas had surrendered. A new peace move was launched by the Arabs.

Two Palestinian leaders left Cairo for Damascus to try to win approval of a cease-fire from Yasir Arafat, the guerrilla chief. He rejected the cease-fire Wednesday. They were expected to meet him in the Syrian capital.

The two Palestinians were among captured guerrilla leaders released by King Hussein of Jordan. They flew to Cairo with a four-man Arab peace mission Wednesday night.

Fighting slackened in Amman, Jordan's capital, after a flareup during the morning, and was confined to pockets of guerrilla resistance. This cleared the way for the evacuation of Americans and other from Amman. A chartered Middle East Airlines plane landed in Amman to bring out 100 Americans and other foreigners.

Approaches Open

Ambassador John Phillips of Britain reported to his government that the Amman airport and its approaches were open and working.

Syrians Withdraw

The main Syrian force withdrew across the border, the informants said, and was centered near Deraa in southern Syria. It left behind 25 damaged or destroyed tanks and a number of armored personnel carriers, they reported.

In Irbid, 50 miles north of Amman, the guerrillas said the 6th Royal Artillery Battalion was firing indiscriminately at the town, "but our fighters are holding fast and their morale is high."

Tank-Led Assault

Jordanian troops claim they drove Syrian forces from the Ir-bid area Wednesday with a tank-led two pronged assault and inflicted heavy casualties.

Guerrilla broadcasts from Damascus, the Syrian capital, said the commandos had pulled back some forces from Irbid as a tactical move. The guerrillas said they still dominated the city of Ramtha, 10 miles east of Irbid.

Curfew In Effect

In Amman, the government radio announced that a dawn-to-dusk curfew would be lifted in different parts of the city for four-hour stretches so that the International Red Cross could step up its efforts to care for the wounded.

The broadcast warned residents to be wary of mines in the streets and report their discovery to the army.

It was referring to the four-point cease-fire agreement concluded in Amman Wednesday between Hussein and a group of captured guerrilla leaders under the auspices of the summit mission. The agreement was an attempt to lay the groundwork for coexistence between the king and the leading guerrilla group, Al Fatah, under the umbrella of the Palestine Liberation Organization. Leftist guerrilla groups, including the Popular Front were left out.

Delayed Two Weeks

Threatened Rail Strike Stopped

WASHINGTON (AP) — A threatened strike that could shut down the nation's railroads has been postponed two weeks to give negotiators more time to settle a dispute over elimination of firemen's jobs.

Talks Continue

The postponement, worked out by the railroads and the United Transportation Union, was announced early today after negotiations continued past the 12:01 a.m. strike deadline.

"The parties agreed to continue negotiations for a period not to exceed two weeks in an endeavor to resolve the longstanding firemen's dispute," said Secretary of Labor James D. Hodgson.

Hodgson Disappointed

"Naturally I am disappointed that no settlement was reached, but I am appreciative of the fact that further opportunity for negotiations now exists without an immediate threat of a strike."

The lingering dispute is one of the toughest to involve government mediators. The debate over using firemen on diesel locomotives is almost as old as the diesel.

The railroads eliminated 20,000 firemen's jobs under a special act of Congress in 1963. The law expired two years later, and the union contends it has the right to demand the jobs be restored, since 18,000 still work as firemen.

Under prodding of a presidential emergency board, the union and railroads have agreed to the principle of combining the jobs of firemen and head brakemen but no method has been worked out. The board recommended the fireman-brakeman classification be eliminated gradually through death and retirement.

The industry argues firemen are not needed on diesels and accuses the union of featherbedding. The union says a third man is needed in the locomotive for safety reasons.

The two sides bargained almost continuously for the past two days and one source said only a couple of questions were left unresolved "but they're big and sticky."

Production Off

LANSING (AP) — Michigan's milk production in August was 398 million pounds, reports the State Crop Reporting Service. The service said this was one per cent below the 401 million pounds reported for August of last year.

Luna 16 Makes Landing With Soil Samples

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union's Luna 16 moon-probe returned to earth today carrying the first samples of moon soil ever gathered by an unmanned spacecraft, the Soviet news agency Tass reported.

Helicopter-borne search teams recovered the capsule and its cargo on windswept steppe brushfields in Soviet Kazakhstan about 1,400 miles southeast of Moscow and 50 miles southeast of the Kazakh town of Dzhezkazgan.

Tass said the craft parachuted to earth at 1:26 a.m. EDT, six minutes later than expected. The moon material will be turned over to the Soviet Academy of Sciences for analysis.

The soil was gathered Sunday from the Sea of Fertility, a heretofore unexplored area of the moon's surface.

Luna 16 was launched 11 days ago with little fanfare and no word from the Soviet informants on the purpose of the mission.

Its controlled soft landing on the moon was announced Sunday as if it were no more significant than previous Soviet soft landings that were not intended to return to earth.

Only on Monday did Tass announce that the craft would attempt to return to earth with a load of moon soil.

Semiofficial sources say the previous Soviet moon shot, Luna 15, was an unsuccessful attempt to bring back soil samples.

That mission 14 months ago coincided with the U.S. Apollo 11 manned moon landing and apparently was calculated to beat the Americans back to earth with the first moon samples.

Cuba Returns Nahma Soldier After Hijack

MIAMI (AP)—Robert Labadie, an alleged U.S. aircraft hijacker, was returned today from Cuba to the United States—the first time the Havana regime had directly sent such a person back to this country.

U.S. officials went to Cuba to get him. Authorities said Labadie, charged with hijacking a TWA flight on Aug. 24, was returned shortly before noon on the second of the regular daily refugee airlift flights to Miami.

The State Department in Washington announced earlier in the day that Labadie was put aboard the airlift plane at V-

Agnew Against Ky's U.S. Trip

PARIS (AP) — South Vietnamese Vice President Nguyen Cao Ky arrived in Paris today to attend the Vietnam peace talks before heading to Washington to address a "March for Victory" rally Oct. 3.

Ky, accompanied by his wife Mai, declined to say what role he would play in the negotiations. Although he is the over-all supervisor of the South Vietnamese delegation, Ky has not attended the talks for almost 18 months.

Before he left Saigon, officials reported that Ky would carry no new proposals.

Ky has agreed to appear at the Washington rally sponsored by the Rev. Carl McIntire, a fundamentalist radio preacher.

The South Vietnamese vice president is due in the United States Oct. 1. He has stayed with his plans despite opposition from a number of U.S. senators, including supporters of President Nixon.

Vice President Spiro T. Agnew said in Indianapolis Wednesday he believed Ky's planned visit "might be a mistake," but added, "I steadfastly refuse to take any active part in dissuading him." Agnew said: "I don't think he is going to serve a useful purpose."

In Taipei, five Nationalist Chinese clergymen left for the United States to take part in the rally. They said they would go on a U.S. tour afterward "to expose Chinese Communist atrocities to the American public."

radero, Cuba. The man was turned over to U.S. authorities who had boarded the aircraft in Miami.

Havana Radio did not immediately comment on the release of Labadie, a former U.S. Army private indicted in South Bend, Ind., on Sept. 10. He was charged with aircraft piracy and kidnapping.

Labadie, 27, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Labadie of Nahma.

At the time of the hijacking, he was reportedly on his way back to the U. S. Army Valley Forge Hospital in Phoenixville, Pa., where he had been under treatment as a psychiatric patient since Dec. 5, 1969.

He had visited his parents in Nahma on a 31-day convalescent leave and was due back at Valley Forge on Sept. 1.

Rep. Charles Varnum of Manistiquie said two-days after the hijacking that diplomatic efforts through the Swiss embassy had been initiated in an effort to secure the release of the young soldier from Cuba.

"Naturally it is my hope that efforts to release the boy will be successful so that he can be returned for proper care," Varnum said.

Meany Urging Better Health Insurance Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — AFL-CIO President George Meany, saying Americans aren't getting their money's worth in health care, renewed his call today for national health insurance.

"We are convinced that national health insurance cannot and must not be delayed any longer," he said in remarks prepared for delivery before the Senate Labor and Public Welfare Committee on National Health Insurance legislation.

Meany told the committee America "can and does provide the finest medical treatment on earth—for those who can get access to it and those who can afford it."

"What we want is for that standard of excellence to be available to all, at a cost that all can afford," he said. "We look on the right to a decent standard of health care as a basic, human right."

Veto Possible On Election Spending Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — All the money in the world won't help future political candidates buy more than a limited amount of television and radio time under a bill Congress has sent to President Nixon.

And, some supporters fear, that aspect of the bill could lead Nixon to veto the measure during these days of overflowing Republican campaign coffers.

Approved by the Senate 60 to 19 Wednesday, the political broadcast reform bill would limit radio and television campaign spending and facilitate broadcast debates between major presidential candidates. The bill passed the House 247 to 112 last week.

A candidate for president, vice president, senator, representative, governor or lieutenant governor would be limited to seven cents for each vote cast in the last election for that office, or $20,000, whichever is higher.

Based on the 1968 election, that would limit Republicans and Democrats to less than $6 million each for the 1972 presidential campaign.

The ceiling for primary elections would be 3½ cents a vote or $10,000. The bill requires stations and networks to sell candidates time at the lowest rate offered other advertisers.

The bill repeals the so-called "equal time" provision of the Communications Act as it applies to presidential and vice presidential candidates. This would enable broadcasters to offer debate time to major party candidates without being forced to offer equal time to minor parties.

Carter Winner In Georgia Voting

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Jimmy Carter, who combined the appeal of the underdog with a four-year personal campaign the length and breadth of Georgia, is the state's Democratic nominee for governor.

The 45-year-old former state senator defeated ex-Gov. Carl Sanders in Wednesday's primary runoff, scoring a victory that was surprisingly decisive.

Carter, an affable peanut farmer-businessman from tiny Plains in South Georgia, will meet Republican nominee Hal Suit in the Nov. 3 general election. Sanders pledged his support to his party's choice.

MEA President Refutes Milliken On Parochialism

The president of the Michigan Education Association said Wednesday that statements by Gov. William Milliken and John Porter, acting state superintendent of public instruction, are purely political "efforts to cloud the issue."

Melvin Leasure, Ferndale teacher who was elected to head the statewide teachers' organization, was in Escanaba to talk to Region 17 teachers Wednesday at Escanaba Area High School.

He also conferred with the Rapid River Education Association over the contract dispute with the Rapid River Board of Education.

Leasure said the MEA, which was a major force in securing the necessary signatures to have the parochial proposal placed on the ballot this fall, believes Milliken and Porter are "obviously mistaken" in the suggestion that the proposed Constitutional amendment "goes too far and its implications are too great."

Milliken, a supporter of parochialism, said earlier this week he would vote against the proposal.

Refutes Governor

Leasure refuted the governor's position and Porter's report which raised the possibility that even police and fire protection could be taken away from non-public schools by a favorable vote on the amendment.

"No Constitutional section can be taken in itself as total," Leasure emphasized. "The proposal is contained within the education section of the Constitution and obviously relates to education only. That police and fire protection could be taken away by a section which is totally in education makes no sense at all."

Labor Charges Filed On Board

RAPID RIVER — The Rapid River Board of Education Wednesday was formally served with notice of unfair labor practice charges filed by the Rapid River Education Association.

At the same time, the Michigan Education Association announced that "advisories" have been issued by the state MEA informing teachers throughout the state and nation "to refrain from accepting positions in the Rapid River public schools during the current dispute."

Melvin Leasure of Ferndale, state MEA president, met with Rapid River teachers for three hours Wednesday.

No new developments in the stalemate contract talks were reported, however. No hearing date on the unfair labor practice charges has been set, but a spokesman for the teachers said the Michigan Employment Relations Commission has been requested to schedule a hearing "immediately."

Leasure said that under law teachers have been granted equal status with school boards in matters of salary, working conditions, etc., and "it seems as though the local board of education is not following the law of co-equal bargaining."

He said the intent of the unfair labor practice charge is to "make the school board live up to its responsibilities."

Injunction Eyed To Get Alpena Schools Opened

By The Associated Press
A citizens group has filed an injunction asking a court in Alpena to issue an injunction to reopen the strike-closed Alpena district schools.

Marvin Harris, president of the Sandborn School Forum of Alpena County, said they group has filed a complaint against the Alpena Board of Education and the Alpena Education Association along with the Michigan Education Association.

It asks them to show cause why an injunction should not be issued to open Alpena County schools. Teachers at Alpena have been on strike since Sept. 8. He said a court hearing is slated Friday.

Harris said the forum is not taking sides in the dispute, but is interested in getting classes started.

Other teacher strikes continue in Highland Park, Warren Woods, Inkster, Cheboygan and Rapid River.

The Cheboygan School Board has announced plans to seek a court injunction forcing striking teachers back to work. The 300 teachers struck the 3,000 - student district Sept. 9, the day classes had been scheduled to open. A school board spokesman said the court also would be asked to order a resumption of contract talks.

At Inkster, teachers voted Wednesday to continue the strike.

Ford River Lions Schedule Dinner

The Ford River Lions Club will have a dinner meeting at 6:30 p. m., Monday at the club rooms. Dr. James Dehlin of Gladstone will be the guest speaker for the evening.

The Lions also announced that Gert Tang, Rte. 2, Escanaba, was the winner of the automobile given away in a recent fund-raising drive. The proceeds from this drive were set aside to blacktop the volleyball court and to erect lights on the baseball field.

The club sponsored a summer baseball program for the Ford River Township children and expressed its appreciation to the adult supervisors who worked with the boys.

Strong School Boards Advocated By Milliken

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — "There is a crisis of confidence in our educational system," Gov. William Milliken warned today in Grand Rapids.

The governor spoke before the annual conference of the Michigan Association of School Boards.

Milliken said the crisis of confidence is not confined to colleges and universities but also extends to elementary and secondary schools.

Student disorders are becoming more prevalent in both, he said.

Educational leadership, the governor said, must come from a partnership of local, state and federal interests.

"Some people have said my goal is to destroy the local role in this partnership. Nothing could be further from the truth," Milliken said.

The state, the governor said, must make a greater effort in the area of school financing.

"The fact is if the state can assume its logical role in education, the federal government will have less reason to inject its enormous bureaucracy — into our schools."

"The key to a strong local role in educational leadership is the elected school board; that control should remain in local hands," the governor told the schoolmen.

"I am not one who believes that the days of the local school boards are numbered," he said. "On the contrary, the institution of the school board must be strengthened if public confidence in our schools is to be restored."

Surviving besides his parents are three sisters, Terri Sue, Jody Kay and Karin, all at home; his maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Arnold LaComb of Au Train and his paternal grandmother, Mrs. Truman Fulcher of Munising.

Pornography Bill Zips Through, 79-0

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate has passed 79 to 0 and sent to the House a bill that would allow recipients of pornographic mail to return it billing the sender for costs plus a 50 cent surcharge.

The measure also requires such mail to be clearly labeled.

"I think that when these materials are sent without request or solicitation, there is a clear invasion of a person's right to privacy," said Sen. Mike Mansfield, D-Mont., the bill's chief sponsor.

The Senate Post Office Committee says most unsolicited mail of a pornographic nature is advertising.

The shipping label would read:

"The enclosed material is sexually oriented advertising and may, if unrequested by the addressee, be returned to the sender unopened at no cost to the addressee."

The bill defines "sexually oriented advertisement," as "any advertisement that depicts in actual or simulated form, or explicitly describes, in a predominantly sexual context, human genitalia, any act of natural or unnatural sexual intercourse, any act of sadism or masochism, or any other erotic subject directly related to the foregoing."

Bark River-Harris To Vote On School

BARK RIVER — Will Bark River-Harris high school students of the future go to school in a new building, or will they continue to attend classes in an 80-year-old building which has been condemned by the state fire marshal and may let in as much "weather" as it keeps out?

That's the question voters of the district will answer Monday when they cast ballots on a $565,000 bond issue proposed to construct a new high school building adjoining the present Bark River-Harris elementary school.

Polls will open at 7 a. m., and close at 8 p. m.

The new building is badly needed for the high school program, according to Superintendent of Schools William Pearson, but it also will allow the district to improve its junior high program and permit full use of the elementary library by providing space for classes now using the library.

Members of the Board of Education have unanimously endorsed the proposal.

Permission Granted

Permission for the district to bond for a new high school was approved in July, some three years after another application by the district was rejected by the state on the grounds that consolidation or annexation with a neighboring district was more desirable.

Pearson said, however, that residents defeated the last consolidation proposal (to join in a northern Menominee County district) because they feel the district already is consolidated (Bark River and Harris Townships united in 1946); the district already is at a maximum on an area basis; small school advantages outweigh disadvantages; when a vocational - technical center materializes it will be in Escanaba, rather than in northern Menominee County, and that the present elementary school was designed to accommodate an addition, making the cost of a high school "relatively inexpensive."

He pointed out that water and sewer systems, gymnasium and locker facilities and the kitchen will be adequate to handle the high school, although some "modest modifications" might be necessary.

Financing Explained

If the $565,000 bond issue is approved, the district will use a combination of local tax revenues and state loans to meet interest and principal payments until bonds from the $500,000 elementary school issue of 1959 are retired.

Pearson explained that the state limitation on debt retirement tax is 13 mills and that the district presently levies 8.2 mills for the elementary school bond issue. The elementary bond issue has 17 years to run, but the district has been able to purchase $80,000 of these bonds (For example, the 1977 bonds due have been bought, Pearson said).

In years when the revenue from local taxes will not be sufficient to meet debt retirement obligations, the district will be able to borrow from the State Bond Loan Fund at 3 per cent interest to meet the payments, Pearson explained.

After the high school bonds are retired, the district then would have up to 11 years to repay the state bond loans.

Question Stated

About $80,000 will be needed annually for debt retirement until the elementary bonds are retired in 17 years. At that point, the yearly requirement will drop to about $44,000, he reported.

Voters will be asked to vote "Yes" or "No" on the proposal. The ballot question is:

"Shall Bark River - Harris Schools, Delta and Menominee Counties, borrow the sum of not to exceed Five Hundred Sixty Five Thousand Dollars ($565,000) and issue its bonds therefor, for the purpose of erecting, furnishing and equipping a new high school building; and developing and improving the site?"

Death Claims Mrs. E. Carney

Mrs. Elvera V. Carney, 63, 1601 17th Ave. S. died at 11:40 p. m. Wednesday at the Medi-Center.

She was born May 14, 1907 in Cedar River and was the owner and manager of the Blue Roof Cabins until her retirement. Mrs. Carney was a member of the Evangelical Covenant Church.

She is survived by one brother, Alvin St. Pierre of Escanaba and one nephew.

Friends may call at the Anderson Funeral Home from 4 to 9 p. m. Friday and complete funeral services will be conducted at 11 a. m. Saturday with the Rev. Philip Rabine officiating. Burial will be in Gardens of Rest Cemetery.

Coho Fishing Getting Better

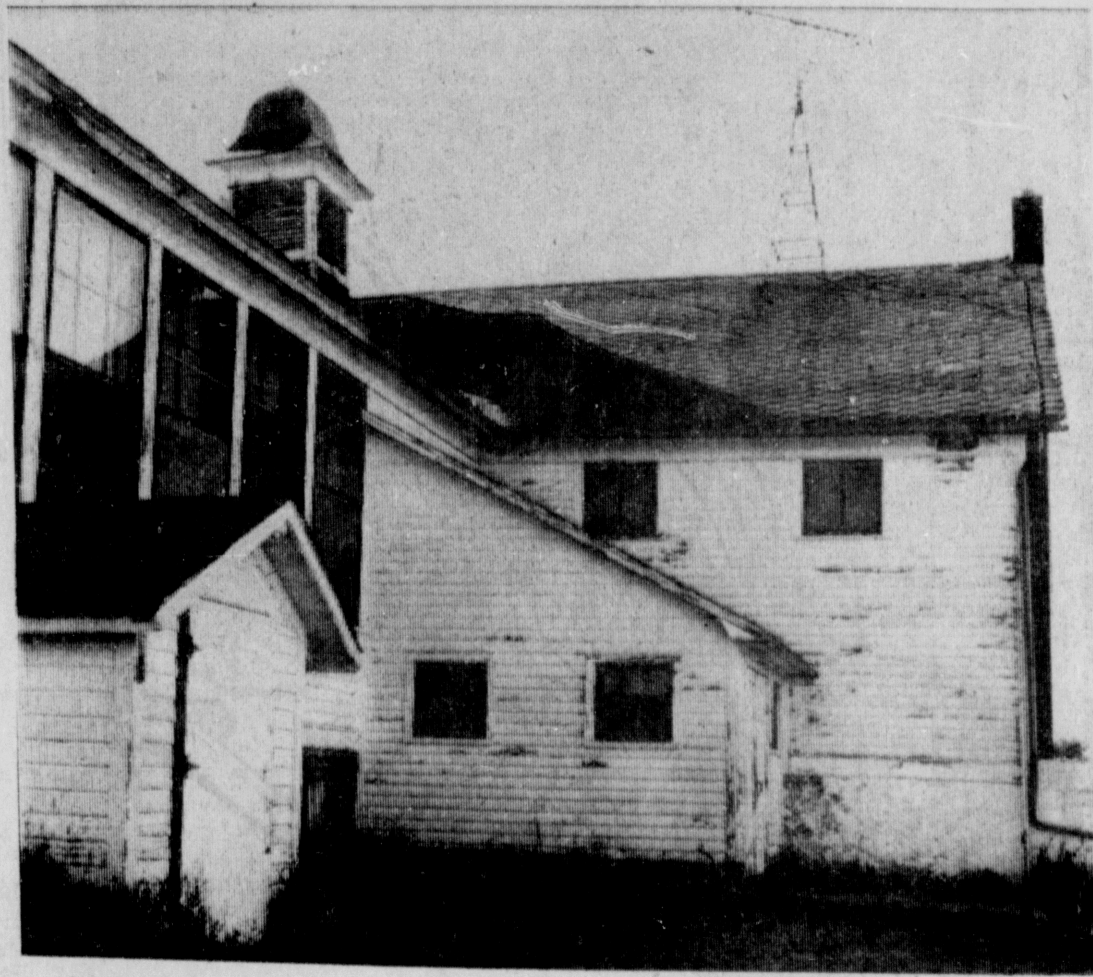

The coho salmon picture continues to improve with moderate numbers caught daily in the Garth Point area of Little Bay de Noc and the lower reaches of the Whitefish River, the Department of Natural Resources reported today.

Interspersed with salmon are an occasional large brown, steelhead or walleye. Fair northern pike, bass and perch fishing is also to be had in the Bay de Noc area.

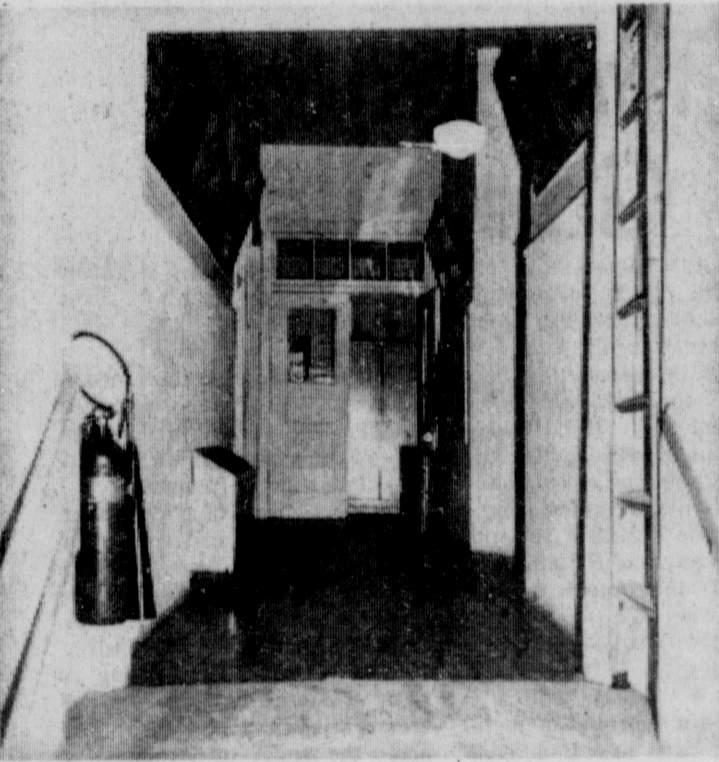

Elsewhere, excellent bass fishing continues in Big Bay de Noc in Kates and Garden bays and off Butler's Beach north of Nahma, officers said. Good catches of northern pike are also being made in these waters at the mouth of the Sturgeon River, off the Fishdam River and in Garden Bay and off the Laughing Gull Resort north of Garden.

Stream fishing for trout is fair with water levels improved due to recent rains. The general trout season draws to a close on September 30.

Lake Superior continues to provide good lake trout fishing in the Munising, Shelter Bay and Marquette areas. One fisherman, in 30 minutes of casting off the lower Marquette Harbor breakwater on Sept. 20, landed a 15-pound lake trout, a five pound coho and a 7-1/4 pound brown trout.

IF VOTERS IN THE Bark River-Harris School District approve a $565,000 bond issue for a new high school in an election Monday, students will be able to vacate this building. The school, originally built about 1891 as an elementary building, has been condemned by the state fire marshal. Residents of the district can take a closer look Sunday from 1 to 5 p. m. when the school will be open for visitors. Guides will be available. (Photos by Paul Blewett)

NARROW HALLS of the present Bark River-Harris High School will be replaced by modern, well-lighted corridors if voters approve a $565,000 bond issue for a new high school Monday.

Hunt Continues For Balloonists

NEW YORK (AP) — A vast sea and air hunt for three missing balloonists continued today and the Coast Guard said it had no plans to call off the search.

Two airplanes and two cutters hunted through the night in the 50,000-square-mile search area off Newfoundland where the balloon "The Free Life" was last heard from Monday evening.

The intensive daylight search was resumed this morning with 12 aircraft scanning the area.

The three missing are Malcolm Brighton, 32, an English aeronautical engineer, Rodney Anderson, 32, a New York commodities broker and his wife, Pamela, 28, an actress.

They took off from an eastern Long Island meadow Sunday to attempt the first balloon crossing of the Atlantic. Their last message was at 7 p. m. Monday, when they radioed: "Six hundred feet and descending. Signaling off. Will try contact after landing."

Jury Convicts Cornell Man In Criminal Case

MARQUETTE — During Tuesday's session of the Marquette County Circuit Court, a 12-member jury found George C. Baker, Cornell, guilty of leaving the scene of a motor vehicle accident which occurred June 19 on County Road 426 in Wells Township of Marquette County.

Two persons were hurt in the two-car collision and Baker, who was one of the drivers, was charged with leaving the scene. He pleaded not guilty to the charge during the August non-jury term of Circuit Court.

Judge Bernard H. Davidson ordered Baker to return to the court to be sentenced on Monday, Oct. 5.

Gauthier Named To Head NMU Broadcast Board

Rev. Lawrence Gauthier, Marquette, superintendent of Catholic schools for the Diocese of Marquette, is the first president of the Broadcast Advisory Board for Northern Michigan University.

He was elected Tuesday night at the initial meeting of the 16-member board appointed by Dr. John X. Jamrich, NMU president to serve as a link between the public and WNMN-TV and WNMN-FM, the educational television and radio services of the university.

Facilities Inspected

Meeting on the campus, the board inspected Northern's new broadcast facilities in the Learning Resources Center, conducted an organizational meeting and heard addresses by Jamrich; Dr. William G. Mitchell, director of learning resources for NMU; Cal Watson, Washington, D.C., a member of the staff of the Corporation for Public Broadcasting; and Bruce Turner, NMU broadcast manager.

In welcoming the board to its first meeting, Jamrich described the "tremendous contributions" NMU's broadcast facilities can make to schools in the Upper Peninsula and to the region's cultural enhancement. He also discussed the role the advisory board can play in assisting station management in the development of the university's communications media.

34 Communities Covered

Mitchell underscored the need for a broadcast transmitter in order for WNMN-TV to realize its full potential for serving the Upper Peninsula.

WNMN-TV has been in operation since the spring of 1965, Mitchell said. Thirty-four communities in the Upper Peninsula receive coverage from the station through signals distributed to cable TV companies for their subscribers.

"We have probably the largest distribution of any public broadcasting station in the United States," Mitchell said. "We think our system is second to none in its capability and production potential."

"But we can't really serve the Upper Peninsula as we should without a broadcast transmitter — and even with one we can't reach the ends of the U.P., so we would have to continue to work through the cable companies or set up our own satellite stations."

Lack of a transmitter creates many disadvantages, Mitchell said. It makes it impossible for the station to qualify for one type of support grant from the Corporation for Public Broadcasting. It prevents the station from becoming part of the Public Broadcasting Service. It blocks WNMN-TV from receiving programs from the Central Educational Network or transmitting programs to that network.

Matching Funds Lacking

The university has selected a site for a 1,000-foot transmitter tower six miles east of Republic. It has received Federal Aviation Authority clearance to erect a tower there. And it has submitted necessary applications to the Federal Communications Commission.

But it lacks the 25 per cent matching local funds required to qualify for the 75 per cent of total funds that would be provided by the federal government through the Department of Health, Education and Welfare (HEW).

Cost $600,000

In response to questioning by the board, Mitchell said the transmitter would cost about $600,000, of which $450,000 would represent HEW's share.

The remainder of the cost, $150,000, plus $93,000 to cover costs for extras (transmitter building, road to transmitter, etc.) has been requested by the university from the Legislature.

Every Litter Bit

Lake County in northwestern Lower Michigan is an area like the Upper Peninsula that draws a lot of tourists every summer. Its population increases four-fold during the summer, rising from 5,200 permanent residents to 20,000 residents and vacationers.

Vacationers go to Lake County because of its natural beauty, and residents of the county want to preserve this beauty. So the Lake County Board of Commissioners unanimously passed an ordinance to prohibit the sale of nonreturnable soft drink and beer bottles and cans. "The consequent disposal is producing an adverse effect upon the environment, which is injurious to the health, safety, comfort, convenience, welfare and happiness to residents," the board stated.

Lake County's effort to control littering is salutary but it raises some interesting questions. One concerns the legality of the ordinance, whether a county can prohibit something that the state allows. Even if the sale of these containers is legal, however, one wonders whether the ordinance will accomplish its objective or whether, in this affluent era, many consumers of soft drinks and beer won't continue to cast the empties along the roadsides and beaches just as they are doing now instead of returning them to claim the small deposit.

Report of another approach to curbing littering with various containers comes from England. A team of chemists there has found a way to cause plastic containers to disintegrate after they have been thrown away. The report is that the containers would first crumble into a fine powder, which would be eaten by bacteria and ultimately disappear. The key to the English discovery centers in a range of dyes which, when added to the plastics, causes them to break down under the action of ultraviolet light in sunlight. These particular dyes do not work with the kind of ultraviolet light that comes through window glass. If they did, plastics displayed in store windows or on kitchen shelves would begin to self-destruct, causing all sorts of messy situations.

Even if the British system is perfected, of course, it would not necessarily spell an end to littering. It might even encourage littering because consumers would realize that their debris eventually would disappear, and some of those who now refrain from casting containers along the way might no longer exercise this restraint.

The countryside would still be littered, but some of the unsightly junk sooner or later would decompose. So you can't knock the efforts of the English scientists. Anything that can help reduce litter in any manner deserves support.

Still, the fact remains that no laws like that enacted in Lake County would be necessary and no research on self-destructing containers would be required if people simply showed as much concern for the out-of-doors as they do for their own living rooms and deposited their garbage in the proper receptacles instead of depositing this wonderful land.

Decongestion

Many big city mayors still refuse to believe that their dominions are shrinking in population, but it's true, nonetheless.

The major cities of the United States, with few exceptions, have declined in population in the last 10 years, contrary to popular theory. In city after city the mayor has claimed the Census Bureau short-counted.

Undoubtedly some figures will be revised upward as late counts, particularly those in slum areas, continue to trickle in. But New York City, as just one example, isn't going to come up with three-quarters of a million people which it would need to match the 1960 census figure. New York contains at least 540,000 fewer people than 10 years ago, by the admission of Mayor Lindsay's own office.

Prestige, of course, is only one reason why big city mayors are protesting. The federal "aid" that is funneled into urban areas is determined primarily on how big a particular city is. Fewer people means fewer funds.

In contrast to the shrinking cities is the almost phenomenal growth of the surrounding suburbs. Wealth and political power are moving into the outlying area, which is good in one sense because it means that more and more people are entering into the middle class income bracket. Growing suburbia is a sign of growing affluence.

The population shift to the suburbs will mean a shift, also, in politics. Law and order, for example, will generate more enthusiasm. Federal handout programs like Operation Breakthrough, however, which threaten property values, undoubtedly will prove anathema to the suburbanite.

The decongestion of the big cities could prove relief in disguise. As property becomes vacant it will prove more profitable for private developers to buy it and put up new construction, providing the rejuvenating stimulus which the federal government's urban renewal-type projects have only stifled.

Peninsula Potpourri

The Gogebic County Board of Commissioners approved adoption of two ordinances dealing with housing in that county. A long-awaited tourist and resort accommodations ordinance, designed to regulate such facilities, was approved by a 14-1 vote. Also approved was an ordinance establishing a five-member county housing commission for the purpose of making low-cost public housing available to more county residents, particularly in the rural townships.

War Memorial Hospital in Sault Ste. Marie was the recipient of a gift of $15,000 from the W. K. Kellogg Foundation for a proposed new hospital coronary care unit.

Mary Beth Jacobs of Iron Mountain received a notice from the Dickinson county clerk's office to report for jury duty. Obviously, it was a mistake since Mary Beth is only 12. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Jacobs of Moon Lake.

ARSONIST

'Pirate' Is The Right Name For Guerrilla

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

As usual, we are having trouble with our words. The application of such terms as "commando" and "guerrilla" to the Palestine Liberation members who operate outside of Israel and adjacent Middle East countries to terrorize the airports of the West confers a semi-legitimacy on individuals who should be known simply as pirates.

The word "commando" came into European languages via the Boer War during which it was applied to shock troops who worked behind the enemy lines. It was used in World War II by the British to describe amphibious units trained to make hit-and-run raids on German-held coasts.

A "guerrilla" is, by classic definition, an "irregular" in a "regular" war who harasses the enemy from the rear by operating independently. The important thing to understand is that neither the classic commando nor the classic guerrilla struck at innocents or neutrals.

So, if it be considered correct to call the Arabs who have been preying on U.S. Swiss, West German and British air traffic by the name of commando or guerrilla, it follows logically that the U.S., Switzerland, West Germany and Britain have been made the objects of undeclared war. We — the nations of the West — are the chosen enemy.

This would thoroughly justify striking back in self-defense at the Palestine "liberationists" by physical force, say with paratrooper landings to clean up their hideouts. The U.S. went after Pancho Villa when his irregulars, called bandits even in their native Mexico, raided on American soil in President Woodrow Wilson's time.

Since then, of course, the great world nations have become feeble in their response when irregular war is made on them. No one save the Israelis themselves would dare send a paratroop unit to deal out summary justice to a pirate who pretends to the honorable name of "commando" or "guerrilla."

Nor does anyone save the Israelis themselves bridle particularly when the Soviets call Moshe Dayan the "aggressor" in the 1967 six-day war. The truth is that in 1967 the Egyptians were poised to choke off the sea approach to the southern Israel port of Eilat on the Gulf of Aqaba.

If a man has a hand about to close on your throat, is it "aggression" to strike him in the midriff before he can shut your windpipe? Nobody in his right mind expects the Communists to use words correctly, but, since this is true, why do we put such a premium on signing pacts with them?

Not only do we have word trouble, we have number trouble. The reference libraries are filled with material about the "Palestine refugees."

I have always considered that the Arabs have a fair case in complaining that some of their brethren were victimized when the territory loosely known as Palestine was partitioned after World War II. The suffering in refugee camps has surely been real, although much of it has been the fault of Arabs who won't care for their own.

When the number of dispossessed Palestinian Arabs is set in the millions, however, are the figures based on an accurate census?

I have been told by an Israeli whom I trust that only the births among the refugees are recorded, never the deaths. No census has been permitted, if my Israeli source is accurate.

Moreover, since a full generation has passed since there was first a refugee problem, at least two-thirds of the "dispossessed" Arabs must be children and grandchildren who have never had contact with the Palestine homeland they claim. It would not be "uprooting" them to settle them somewhere on Arab soil in that immense acreage reaching from the Atlantic to the Indian Ocean.

I will be called a "Zionist sympathizer" for using an Israeli complaint about the "numbers game" as applied to the refugee problem.

But an accurate count of refugees by age groups should be possible. Where is it? The UN can't provide it. If anyone can produce it, I would be happy to print it.

Autumn Fine Time For Daydreaming

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Autumn is a fine time for daydreaming.

So is any other season, of course, except possibly winter, when most daydreamers go into hibernation.

But whereas the daydreams of spring are lazy, and those of summer warm and temperate, the daydreams of autumn are fine and stirring things, full of derring-do.

Yes, it's great to put your feet on the desk, lean back in your swivel chair and daydream about how you'd like to—

Put two bottles of vodka in the office water cooler.

Become staff fortune-teller in a sultan's harem.

Get rich by bottling a new soft drink made of ambrosia and cola.

At quitting time conduct a peremptory search of everybody's briefcase and see what they're really carrying home.

Rent a love nest for a lovesick singsong girl in sunny Singapore.

Ride a gazelle and bag a mere bagatelle.

Open a pawnshop on Park Avenue.

Play hopscotch with Sophia Loren.

Launch an imitation opium den for people who don't believe in taking drugs or smoking cigarettes.

Found a society for white, red and yellow panthers.

Give the Ku Klux Klan a new look by donating them some polka-dot robes.

Sell a flying carpet to an Armenian.

Adopt Jacqueline Bisset.

Read an issue of a woman's magazine that doesn't have an article in it by Margaret Mead.

Compare horoscopes with Spiro Agnew.

Take your boss to a four-Martin lunch during National Brotherhood week.

Invent something that would cost only a dollar-and be worth every penny of it.

Promote a lottery in which a horse and buggy will be first prize and see how many tickets you can sell to doctors.

Put a bug on J. Edgar Hoover's home telephone.

Design a plastic Indian for ultra-modern cigar stores.

Pull a buffalo's goatie.

Sign a $50,000-home mortgage made of paper secretly treated so that it will automatically self-destruct three days later.

The Santa Clause to the North Pole so we can all have a quiet and inexpensive Christmas.

NO JUDGES

PROVIDENCE, R. I. (AP)—For a short time in 1935 Rhode Island had no justices to sit on its supreme court. The general assembly, in an all-night session, declared vacant the seats on the court and that of the sheriff of Providence County. It later named new justices and another sheriff.

Opening lead—king of hearts. It is not easy to imagine how or why South lost three trump tricks on this hand, but actually he could do nothing about it and had to pay off to the excellent brand of defense displayed by East-West.

West led the K-Q of hearts, everyone following suit, and continued with a low heart ruffed by East with the nine. When the nine held the trick, the anemic quality of South's trump holding became clear to both defenders and they proceeded to take full advantage of the situation.

East returned a spade, ruffed by declarer, who led a low trump. West climbed up with the ace and led another heart. East ruffed with the jack, thus scoring his side's third trump trick, and the outcome was that South went down two as a result of the smart defense.

West's low heart play at trick three was the key to the winning defense. It revealed that at best South's trumps were headed by the eight, and it permitted East-West to exploit that weakness by scoring the A-J-9 as separate South would have done far better had he been declarer at four diamonds instead of four clubs. This contract could not have been defeated by any method of play.

As a matter of fact, South's two club bid is highly questionable. Considering the overwhelming preference he himself had for diamonds as opposed to clubs, and considering also the high-card weakness of his opening bid, he would have been better advised to simply rebid his diamonds and thus warn partner of his limited strength. If it became necessary later on, he could then show his clubs.

Wilderness Area Tag Given To Two Peninsula Sites

WASHINGTON (AP)—Three Michigan sites are among 23 new wilderness areas designated in a bill passed by the House. Totaling 201,000 acres in 12 states, the areas range in size from 50,260 acres in the Petrified Forest National Park in Arizona to island wildlife refuges of two to three acres.

The addition of the areas to the National Wilderness System is designed to preserve them from the encroachments of commercialization.

The bill now goes to the Senate.

Areas proposed for wilderness designation include: Seney Wilderness, Mich.—25,150 acres in northwest corner of Seney Wildlife refuge.

Huron Islands, Mich.—seven islands totaling 147 acres in Lake Superior. Huron Island is excluded.

Michigan Islands, Mich.—Shoe, Pismire and Scarecrow Islands, totaling 12 acres.

Wisconsin Islands, Wis.—Gravel Island and Green Bay wildlife refuges in Lake Michigan.

Oriental Just Ask To Be Treated Equal

Dear Ann Landers: It must be great to be either black or white. At least you know what you are. I am Oriental. The average Negro or Caucasian has no idea of the problems and anxieties suffered by people of the so-called yellow race.

Most blacks think of the Oriental as white. But white people do not consider us their equal. While we have never been pushed to the back of the bus, like another minority race, we have been discriminated against in other ways. The whole color thing in the United States is completely illogical since some Indians have darker skin than many Negroes, but so long as they wear native costumes or have aquiline features they can get in anywhere.

I am an Oriental boy who moved to a new state and I would like to date a Caucasian girl. Shall I try? I know the racial barriers are breaking down, but I do not wish to offend anyone. Please advise. — Uncertain

Dear Uncertain: The best way to find out is to ask her. It may be that the girl would like very much to go out with you. But if she says no, don't assume the reason you were turned down is because she is prejudiced against Orientals. One of my favorite stories is the one about the fellow who didn't get the j-j-ob as a r-r-adio announcer because he was J-J-J—ewish.

Dear Ann Landers: So many parents are concerned about drug abuse these days, and they have a right to be. You can do them a favor by letting them know they can get help by calling their County Mental Health Department.

Most county hospitals have detoxification clinics where patients are physically taken off drugs. If your particular county hospital does NOT have such facilities they can give you the name and number of a place that does. The county hospital can also put callers in touch with organizations that help addicts get free treatment and follow-up counseling. These organizations have staff members trained in first aid and telephone answering. The county pays for this help and there are also volunteers (ex-addicts usually) who donate their time. Through these organizations, addicts can be cured without getting a police record or publicity. They also have a 24-hour crisis phone service. If an addict becomes dangerously ill someone will come for him. If a staff member sees that medical help is needed, a physician will be called immediately.

So many people need help these days and they don't know where to go or who to call. Please tell them. — A Stockton, Calif. Mother And Volunteer different states. They ALL had free facilities for drug addicts, including Cook County in Illinois, which was a pleasant surprise. I endorse your suggestion and thank you for writing.

Dear Mother: This office checked your suggestion by calling 12 county hospitals in 12

Dear Ann Landers: Am I becoming crochety in my old age? I'm only 52 yet I become increasingly irritated by my fellow workers. I am employed in an office — 32 desks in one large room. I'm on an aisle. Several times a day some passer-by drops a paper clip down my dress, jabs my arm with a pencil, lifts a loose hairpin from my head and hands it to me. Just this minute a kid younger than my son pulled my ear. Should I tell everybody "Hands off?" — Mrs. Grr-rr

Dear Mrs.: No. The pesky annoyances are in reality expressions of affection. The time to be concerned is when people pass your desk and ignore you.

What awaits you on the other side of the marriage veil? How can you be sure your marriage will work? Read Ann Landers' booklet "Marriage — What To Expect." Send your request to Ann Landers in care of your newspaper enclosing 50 cents in coin and a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope.

GM Strikers Losing Wages At Record Rate

DETROIT (AP)—United Auto Workers officials say its national contract talks with strike-closed General Motors Corp. were at an "absolute standstill" as the wages lost by strikers in 10 days has equalled the previous record amount for a GM strike.

GM officials also said the wage losses would greatly accelerate as 32,537 of the 72,000 workers at strike-exempt facilities have been laid off by the giant automaker. In addition, 6,300 UAW members from the Delco Electronics plant at Kokomo, Ind., were removed from the previous exempt list and were officially on strike today.

The totals bring to 382,447 the number of workers on strike or laid off at GM plants in the United States and Canada. Twenty-seven facilities, thought to produce parts vital for the operations of other automakers, originally were exempted from strike action by the UAW.

The automaker said the wages lost in the first 10 days of the strike were more than the estimated $130 million lost by workers during a 119-day strike against GM in 1945-46.

Wages then after a settlement of a new contract in April 1946 were increased 18.5 cents per hour, to an average hourly wage of $1.28. The average hourly wage under the just expired contract is $4.02.

Bargaining talks today were to center on noneconomic issues, such as grievance procedures, and union representation. Irving Bluestone, co-director of the UAW's GM department, said after Wednesday's sessions that talks were at an "absolute standstill".

Bluestone said, however, that while they were "beating our gums at the national table," that there appeared to be a "genuine effort being made for settlement" of contract disputes at the local level.

European Wasps May Help Save American Elms

Tiny European visitors may be riding to the rescue of the beleaguered American elm... at least Michigan State University scientists hope so.

In an effort to battle Dutch elm disease in America, MSU entomologists, headed by Dr. James Butcher, have been importing wasps from Europe. The tiny wasps are parasites of the European elm bark beetle, the primary carrier of Dutch elm disease in the United States.

Working with other scientists in Austria, France, Holland and Yugoslavia, MSU experts have been collecting European parasites for evaluation since 1965. From 1965 to 1969 more than 44,000 parasites were released throughout Michigan.

The tiny parasites interrupt the life cycle of the elm bark beetle by laying their eggs in the beetle larvae which live just beneath the bark of the tree. These tiny wasps are equipped with long ovipositors which they use to probe for beetle larvae through the bark.

When each wasp egg hatches, the larvae of the wasp feeds on the larvae of the beetle and kills it. "Under laboratory conditions, parasitism reaches 100 per cent; however, in nature, normal levels are on the order of 35-40 per cent," says Dr. Butcher.

No Place On Campuses For 'Restraining'

DETROIT (AP) — U. S. Sen. Sam Ervin, D-N. C., told Michigan attorneys Wednesday "criminal coercion has no place on the campus of any university or college anywhere in our land."

He said, "Administrators of these institutions and the state officers charged with the duty to administer criminal justice have ample authority to put an end to violence on the campuses."

In a speech at the annual Michigan State Bar meeting, Ervin said he could not "over-magnify the obligations" of administrators and government officials "to prevent violent disruption of the education process."

"This is so because, in the ultimate analysis, our universities and colleges must supply the intellectual and spiritual light necessary to keep our society free."

He said that administrators must respect the right to petition for redress of grievances. He said college officials should keep communication lines open and that changes improving institutions should be accepted.

Ervin said students should be prosecuted for committing violent crimes, and that administrators should "make it plain that their institutions are not going to be havens of repose for the indolent or places of correction for the incorrigible."

Health Official Issues Warning On Eating State Fish

DETROIT (AP) — Michigan's top health official warned Wednesday that mercury poisoning could be caused by a person eating eight ounces a week of some fish from Michigan waters.

Dr. Maurice S. Reizen, director of the State Department of Public Health, said eating over a long period less than half a pound of fish weekly containing two parts per million (PPM) of mercury over a long period could cause symptoms of mercury poisoning.

He said symptoms include slurred speech, loss of memory, tingling and numbness in fingers and toes and a staggering walk.

Reizen said continue use could cause blindness and permanent brain damage.

"It's a question of time and dose. You get rid of mercury at the rate of one per cent per day. If you eat more than you're excreting, you're going to be in trouble."

"I'm fishing in Lake Michigan and the fishing is great. But I'm returning them to the water," he said.

Authorities have put an embargo only on Lake St. Clair, where people are allowed to fish, but must throw their catches back. Mercury content of up to six PPM has been found in Lake St. Clair fish.

Officials said the mercury content is lower in other Michigan waters, but at times it is above 0.5 PPM.

The government seizes shipments of fish containing mercury above the 0.5 PPM.

32 Americans Leave Jordan Amid Shelling

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Fifty-eight foreign nationals, 32 of them Americans, were evacuated to Beirut from Amman today. They said their plane was mortared at Amman airport before take off but no one was hurt.

"It was really dangerous out there. The nearest shell landed only about 100 yards from the plane," said Akbar Khaleeli, Jordan charge d'affaires in Beirut.

Arrangements for the flight in a Middle East Airlines plane were made by the U.S. Embassy in Beirut. The plane was due to return to Amman shortly to pick up more foreigners.

Women and children will be given first preference, and the rest of the space available will be given to others wishing to leave.

A British mercy mission picked up a group of 70 Britons in Amman earlier today and is expected to take them to Cyprus.

American Ships Appear Ready For Scrap Piles

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Vice Adm. Arthur R. Gralla, head of America's Military Sealift Command, says most of the aging vessels that make up the nation's government and commercial shipping will be ready for the scrap heap before the end of the decade.

Addressing the National Defense Transportation Association, Gralla said Wednesday all but four of the government's ocean-going cargo ships are nearly 25 years old.

The transportation specialist suggested a return to faster subsidies for shipping may be "a premium we have to pay to insure development of an adequate strategic sealift force" in the face of Soviet shipping expansion.

Bob Krohmer

There has been a gradual change in the pharmacist's role over the past 25 years, and the experts say this will continue at an even faster pace over the next decade.

Up to around 1950, the practicing druggist's major responsibility was the compounding of prescriptions. Now it is the control of drug distribution, with the pharmacist's knowledge of drugs being used to help physicians and other professionals.

For example, druggists are now being consulted more often by doctors as to the selection of drugs. We are being asked about their chemical action, and possible interaction with other drugs or physical conditions.

This not only increases the doctor's efficiency in drug use, but it improves patient care when we suggest the best medication, the best way to administer it, and the best dose. Among other things, it is hoped this will reduce the number of adverse drug reactions.

This is National Pharmacy Week, when our profession looks to the future and to ways in which it can best serve the community and the nation. To a great extent, that future is in the hands of young men and women now in our schools of pharmacy.

They are learning more and more about how to work best with doctors, nurses, dentists and other health professionals. If they are to truly serve as drug consultants, they will find their education will continue throughout the professional life, just to keep up with scientific developments in medicine and pharmaceuticals.

Fear Enrollment Drop:

College Opposes Boost In Tuition

State tuition requirements and their effect on enrollment was the principal item of business in the Bay de Noc Community College Governing Board meeting Wednesday night, with state legislation requiring higher tuition rates for community colleges next year a major concern.

President Richard Rinehart reported to the Board that the legislation which would set tuition rates for students from the adjoining counties at a rate much higher than that being charged by the state universities, and a rate for in-district students which would be somewhat higher than presently being levied at Bay de Noc, would have the effect of considerably reducing the enrollment at the College for 1971-72. This legislation had been discussed earlier by the Board and they had concurred in the evaluation.

The legislation would require $10 per credit hour for in-district students, $20 per credit hour for other Michigan residents, and $30 per credit hour for out of state students. Both administration and Board concurred that the out-of-state requirement is of no consequence, since Bay de Noc Community College does not recruit students from other states nor do they plan for serving such students.

In order to offer a comprehensive set of specialized courses, both in the occupational and university parallel courses, the College must have a larger enrollment than can be achieved from Delta County students alone.

After some discussion, the Board instructed the administration to prepare a budget for 1971-72 on the assumption that such legislation would be revoked or that legislation presently pending involving a one mill tax on all non-community college districts would pass during the coming year.

The alternative of planning a lower budget for a lower enrollment would be untenable because services to Delta County students would have to be reduced by the elimination of specialized courses, said Rinehart.

In other action, the Board approved two health policies. The first would require annual tuberculin tests for all employees, together with a physical examination requirement. The second health policy, which was an administrative policy, established more detailed physical examination specifications for college students.

The Board also reviewed a paper on Upper Peninsula college services that had been prepared by the State Department of Education. In connection with this, a convening of all academic officers of all Upper Peninsula universities and colleges will be established on a regular basis.

Dr. William Butt, of Bay de Noc Community College, will convene the vice-presidents for academic affairs for Northern Michigan University, Michigan Technological University, Lake Superior State College, Gogebic Community College, and Suomi College. This group will meet to discuss program planning and coordination.

The jail sentences will be served concurrently.

Bayh Pushing For Action On Election Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Birch Bayh set out today to block all other Senate business until his electoral reform bill is brought to a vote.

The Indiana Democrat, chief sponsor of a constitutional amendment to provide for direct election of the president, said he would object to unanimous consent requests to let other measures be brought up.

He planned to exercise his right to keep Senate committees from meeting while the Senate is in session.

Bayh said this course offers the only hope of overcoming what he termed the filibuster tactics of opponents of the proposed amendment, approved by the House a year ago.

With congressmen eager to adjourn by mid-October, Bayh acknowledged his tactics might antagonize colleagues and cost him votes. Some senators, both Democrats and Republicans, said this is just what is likely to happen.

Sen. Robert C. Byrd of West Virginia, a co-sponsor of the proposed amendment and a member of the Democratic leadership, said, "Electoral reform is a dead duck for this session."

Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield, asked if he agreed, replied: "Let's say it's in difficulties."

Mansfield will file a second petition Friday to cut off debate by invoking the Senate's cloture rule. It will be voted on Tuesday.

Market Posts Steady Gain

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market today posted a moderate but broadly based gain in heavy trading.

At noon the Dow Jones average of 30 industrials was ahead 3.42 points at 757.80. Winning issues on the New York Stock Exchange led losers by a margin of 3 1/2 to 1.

Trading was so brisk in the morning session that the Big Board's tape ran a minute late at times.

Analysts attributed the market's advance in large measure to news reports of a cooling of fighting in Jordan and a consequent lessening of the chances of U.S. military involvement there.

They said the market was still being lifted by the news Wednesday that the consumer price index last month rose by the smallest amount of any month since December, 1968.

Brokers added that stock prices also were buoyed by investor hopes the Federal Reserve Board would lower the discount rate. That is the interest which the Federal Reserve charges member banks.

Today's market performance followed a session in which stock prices staged a comeback. The Wednesday Dow Jones industrial average rose 6.91 points, partially offsetting an 11-point decline in the two previous sessions.

As they did today, analysts attributed the market's rise Wednesday to encouraging news about the Middle East and the consumer price index.

The Associated Press 60-stock average advanced 1.4 to 255.4. Industrials were up 1.8, rails up 1.4, and utilities off 1.

Gains ran through rails, oils, building materials, chemicals, electronics, aircrafts, farm implements, mail order-retail, motors, and steels. Glamour issues enjoyed substantial increases.

The annual dinner is the first of a series of social activities scheduled for the 1970-71 fiscal year of the Escanaba Council.

Major Fire Hits Owosso Structure

OWOSSO — (AP) — A fierce fire destroyed the Economy Mills elevator in Owosso today, knocking out electrical lines and cutting power to downtown Owosso for at least an hour.

The blaze in the three-story structure, housing corn, oats and feed material, was discovered by police in a squad car about 4:45 a. m., officials said. The fire was still burning but under control four hours later.

Owosso fire officials who fought the blaze said the cause was not immediately determined and there was no estimate of damage. There were no injuries reported.

Firemen saved an adjacent moving and storage company and a nearby lumber yard and coal yard.

Austin To Speak At Two Dinners Honoring Green

Richard H. Austin of Detroit, Democratic candidate for Secretary of State, will be one of the featured speakers at the luncheon and dinner programs to honor Nino Green of Gladstone, Democratic candidate for Congress.

The programs will be held Oct. 3rd at Downing's Restaurant, Mackinaw City, at noon and in the House of Ludington, Escanaba, at 7 p. m.

Austin, 56, has an extensive background in business, government, civic affairs and public service. He is a certified public accountant and was elected as Wayne County Auditor in 1966 with a 200,000 vote margin.

He has also served as a delegate to Michigan's Constitutional Convention. On 1969, he lost the race for Mayor of Detroit receiving 49 per cent of the vote.

Austin is the senior partner in the accounting firm of Austin, Washington and Davenport, an officer and director of several companies and institutions, and a member of the Economic Club of Detroit, Greater Detroit Chamber of Commerce, and other civic and professional organizations.

Tickets for the luncheon and dinner honoring Nino Green are available from Democratic County Chairmen, Nino Green for Congress Co-ordinators and Ticket Chairmen in each of the 22 counties in the 11th Congressional District.

Ireland Hit By Bank Shutdowns

DUBLIN, Ireland (AP) — A bank shutdown in Ireland is forcing the public to turn to bar-tenders, druggists and grocers for cash—and the shutdown is threatening to spread to Northern Ireland.

Union leaders are considering calling out 3,000 affiliated bank employees in the six Northern Irish counties governed by Britain. Bank clerks on both sides of the border belong to the same union, the Bank Officials Association.

"It's quite in the cards that clerks in the northern offices will be asked by the officials association not to handle business from Eire," said a union official.

Since Ireland's 900 banks shut their doors last April 30, more than 6,500 employees have been idled.

The impasse began when bank employees demanded a 25 per cent pay hike on weekly salaries which range from $30 for clerks to $60 for managers. They began a slowdown to enforce their demands.

Finally the banks, claiming a backlog of checks had piled up to the point where the banking system couldn't function, closed down. Employees called it a strike.

U.S. Rejects VC 'Peace Initiatives'

PARIS (AP) — The United States formally replied today to the Viet Cong's "new peace initiatives" by affirming that Washington "will not impose any government on the people of South Vietnam."

At the same time, Ambassador David K. E. Bruce said the United States "continues to favor withdrawal of all outside forces"—an answer to the Viet Cong's demand for a U.S. commitment to withdraw unilaterally from Vietnam by next June 30.

Last week, Mrs. Nguyen Thi Binh coupled a June 30 withdrawal demand with that of replacing the present Saigon leaders in return for a cease-fire against American troops and negotiations on prisoners of war. "Since the Nixon administration often says that it is concerned about protecting the lives and safety of American troops in South Vietnam, here is the best way for it to do so," Mrs. Binh declared at today's 85th plenary session.

"As it also shows anxiety time and time again for the American military men captured in the Vietnam war, our good will in this issue urges the Nixon administration to prove its concern by practical deeds so that those army men can return home quickly," she added.

B52s Will Leave Okinawa Bases

TOKYO (AP) — The United States notified the Japanese government today that it will remove B52 bombers from Okinawa shortly, the Foreign Ministry reported.

Officials said the U.S. Embassy informed the Foreign Ministry of the decision.

An embassy spokesman said U.S. officials discussed the issue at the ministry, but declined to comment on future operations of the big B52 bombers in Asia. The embassy also declined to elaborate on when the withdrawal would be completed.

Japan's Kyodo News Service reported the U.S. Air Force would continue to be permitted to fly B52s to Okinawa's Kadena Air Base "when such action is regarded necessary." But, neither the Foreign Ministry nor the American Embassy would confirm the report.

Mrs. Romney Critical Of Health Care Program

DETROIT (AP) — Lenore Romney, Republican candidate for the U.S. Senate, said Wednesday a medical crisis is affecting the "blue collar, low-middle income worker whose most important asset is his health."

In a speech to the Michigan Doctors Political Action Committee, Mrs. Romney criticized the present health care system as inadequate and fragmented.

Mrs. Romney called for new federal laws to provide catastrophic insurance as an interim program for Americans who need or wish to participate.

She said, however, it would be difficult to provide a national health program for all citizens providing full lifetime insurance coverage.

"However, there is a great and growing need to offer improved coverage to those who cannot afford private insurance, and to those who wish to participate in a federal program that would be more comprehensive than most private programs."

She said more than 20 percent of the 177 million private citizens in the nation do not have hospital insurance, 22 percent are without surgical insurance, and over 34 percent have no in-hospital medical expense insurance.

She said that there are many persons, such as clerks and laborers, who cannot afford large insurance coverage nor heavy medical expenses.

She said that any national program she would support must have "certain conditions". She said the choice of doctors must be left to the individuals, that doctors should be paid fees rather than salaries, and it should cover hospitalization, surgical and emergency treatment, preventive and diagnostic services, doctors visits, dental care and laboratory examinations.

She also said there should be planning to make sure area facilities are used to their maximum capability.

Meanwhile, the doctors at the meeting gave a cold reception to U.S. Rep. Martha Griffiths, D-Mich., who said that a comprehensive national health plan would be passed and become law in the next five years.

Dr. Walter Silver of Wayne County drew heavy applause from the committee when he termed Rep. Griffiths' health insurance plan a "stupid, irretrievable blunder."

At another meeting Wednesday, William Haber, professor of economics at the University of Michigan, told members of the Michigan State Medical Society that "I would be very much surprised if some plan for national health insurance were not adopted by Congress in the middle of the 1970s or shortly thereafter."

Haber helped in the drafting of the original Social Security laws. He told doctors that "there is, for the first time, substantial public support for some sort of a national health insurance plan."

Hickel Picks Up Litter, Starts U.S. Campaign

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of the Interior Walter J. Hickel has opened a nationwide antilitter campaign with a speech from the Lincoln Memorial steps—and by picking up some trash himself.

Hickel told an audience of hundreds of school children and

Interior Department employees Wednesday the campaign is "a do-it-yourself environmental program that everyone can join."

He demonstrated what he meant by picking up some cigarette butts, a plastic fork and a can and taking them to a rubbish can near the reflecting pool between the memorial and the Washington Monument.

Arthur Godfrey, the television entertainer, advised the crowd that "good habits are as easily formed as bad habits" when it comes to keeping the scene clear of trash.

McNamara Against Anti-Parochial Plan

LANSING (AP)—Edward McNamara, Democratic candidate for lieutenant governor, says he will vote against the anti-parochial amendment on the November election ballot.

"From the beginning, I have not been opposed to parochialism," the Livonia mayor said at a news conference in Lansing Wednesday.

McNamara said the way the proposed constitutional amendment to ban parochialism is worded to appear on the ballot "it goes far beyond the intent of many who signed the petitions" to put the issue up to the voters.

The State Board of Education also has gone on record in opposition to the proposed change in the State Constitution which would ban payment of public funds to nonpublic schools.

Gov. William Milliken previously announced he would vote against the ballot proposal.

A "yes" vote on the ballot proposal would ban parochialism. A "no" vote would favor the state aid to nonpublic schools.

McNamara said he could not speak for Sen. Sander Levin, D-Berkley, Democratic candidate for governor, but expects Levin to make his position known soon.

The effect of the proposed amendment still is being studied by attorneys for the Democratic team, he said.

McNamara said he is encouraged by a poll that showed the Democrats running only two points behind Milliken and his choice for lieutenant governor, James Brickley.

"I don't think it is an indication the people are for Levin and McNamara," he added. "I think it is more of an indication of dissatisfaction with the leaders of the other party."

He declared he is "certain" Mrs. Lenore Romney, Republican aspirant for the U. S. Senate, is not helping the GOP.

"There has been an attempt by Gov. Milliken to disassociate his campaign from hers. But she is his consensus candidate," he added.

McNamara claimed the amnesty resolution for draft dodgers in the Democratic state platform would not hurt the party.

"I was against it from the beginning," he said. "It had no place in the platform and it is just unfortunate it got there."

The General Motors strike will not help either party, McNamara said.

Michigan's present rate of unemployment—about 8.5 per cent—should be a major issue, he said.

"I think the actual rate is higher than that," he claimed. "It doesn't take into account those on strike or people losing overtime."

GM Files Suit To Recover Taxes

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — General Motors Corp. has filed a circuit court suit in an effort to recover $322,290 in personal property taxes it paid the City of Wyoming this year.

The automaker contended it paid the taxes "involuntarily under duress and written protest."

It claimed Wyoming's tax assessments exceed the cash value of its diesel equipment division and Fisher Body Division plants.

At stake is nearly one-fourth of the personal and real estate taxes levied by the city of 60,000 this year. General Motors has been appealing its $26.3 million assessed value for personal property but the Wyoming Board of Review confirmed it and the state tax commission has made no ruling.

Over 10,500 Walleye Fry Planted Here

About 10,600 walleye fry were planted in the Manistique Lakes near Curtis recently as part of a re-stocking project by the Manistique Lakes Association.

The project got underway last April when walleye spawn was collected, fertilized and placed in special containers at the Curtis Cooperative Hatchery under the direction of Reuben and John Abrams.

For a 20-day period the eggs were watched round-the-clock by "babysitters" who kept constant checks on water temperature, fresh flow of water, etc.

Upon hatching, the fry were taken to various farm ponds in the Curtis area for planting.

Early in June the ponds were seeded by Ken Gehrett and Sherman Ludlow and other volunteers and over 10,000 fry, ranging from 1/4" to 3/8", were planted in the Manistique Lakes. Late in August the ponds were re-seeded and about 600 fry, from 2 1/2" to 7", were planted.

Conservation Officer Leslie Walstrom of Curtis said the Association was pleased with the results of their project and intended to follow through with another next year.

Blocked Avenue Proves Popular

NEW YORK (AP) — Hundreds of people swarmed along a 19-block stretch of Madison Avenue this week as the city continued its experiment in returning streets to the people.

The avenue was closed to vehicular traffic from 60th to 79th Street and scores of shops stayed open for strollers and shoppers. Strolling folk singers, miniature sidewalk cafes and free gifts enlivened the evening.

The idea came from the Madison Avenue General Ideas Committee—MAGIC—which represents many of the merchants on the avenue.

Mayor John V. Lindsay led the ribbon cutting ceremonies to open the avenue and later observed, "From what I can see, it looks busy, crowded and the people happy. So I guess it's getting off on the right foot."

A midtown portion of Fifth Avenue has been closed to vehicles on some Saturdays.

Aging Forum Slated Friday

"The first priority in planning the White House Conference on Aging is finding out what older people themselves want," says John B. Martin, Commissioner on Aging. "This is why President Nixon has designated Senior Citizens Month this year as a time to bring together older Americans in local meetings throughout the country to discuss their major needs, ideas for solutions and their own potential contributions."

Older Americans of the Schoolcraft County area are invited to appear at the forum to be held at Augustana Hall, Friday afternoon, Sept. 25 from 1:30 p. m. to 3:30 p. m. to have opinions recorded and sent on to Lansing and then to Washington.

"Aging has a future. Aging is, in a sense, everyone's future but we must be concerned with the future of aging in the qualitative sense: the quality of life in the later years. And I am determined that quality must be improved—that the quality of life have a future in the sense of expectancy, anticipation, and enjoyment. Added years have no value in themselves unless they mark achievement, contentment, happiness and purpose," Commissioner Martin concluded.

Food Service Strike Forces EMU To Close

YPSILANTI, Mich. (AP) — Classes for the 20,000 students at Eastern Michigan University were suspended indefinitely today in the wake of a contract dispute with about 400 maintenance and food service employees.

A university spokesman said classes would not reopen until "we are assured of labor stability."

A court hearing was scheduled today on a university request for a permanent injunction against the strike. However, sources close to the scene said it appeared that a ratified new contract agreement—rather than a court injunction—would be needed to resolve the walkout.

Washtenaw County Circuit Judge William F. Ager scheduled the hearing for the union to show cause why a permanent injunction against the strike should not be issued. A university spokesman said even if the injunction were invoked and the workers decided to honor it, the campus could not be reopened until Monday.

The 5,400 students who live in dormitories were given thorough today to leave. Special arrangements were being made for students who either are from foreign countries or reside in far away states, a university spokesman said.

The members of Local 1666 of the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees went on strike at noon Monday to back up contract demands.

Bargaining was conducted in Detroit Wednesday. However, state labor mediator Leonard Bennett said no progress was made.

The judge began a hearing on the injunction Tuesday, but then recessed it until today.

Since the strike, supervisory personnel and some students kept the university running. But officials made the decision to shut down the university. First steps began Wednesday night.

Lewis Profit, university vice president for business and finance, said the university had offered wage increases of more than eight per cent per year for three years, but that the workers had demanded about 12 per cent per year increase for a two-year pact.

The university officials said

EMU's last offer would have cost $744,000 in wages increase over three years.

Union negotiators had approved an earlier settlement, but it was rejected by the members. Sources said because of this, the university wanted to make sure any new contract is ratified, before making the decision on when to reopen.

"There has to be some indication we can preserve health, safety and sanitation," one spokesman said.

Meanwhile, some garbage began piling up Wednesday and a few elevators were shutdown for fear of the need to maintain them.

Profit said no decision has been made on whether the university will have additional class time, or possible refunds if the strike is lengthy.

Some professors have given assignments for numerous classes in advance.

A Detroit father picked up his daughter Wednesday and said "I'm mad. You just get the kids up here to study and then you've got to bring them home again."

Mini Dead, Burial Plans Small Item

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The California fashion world in general is saying the mini is dead and that the midi and around-the-knee hemlines should be the style come next spring.

But at least one style expert thinks that what's dead is the midcalf midi.

About 160 fashion editors and garment buyers attending the 20th annual California Fashion Creators press week were told Wednesday by designer Stan Hirsch:

"Retailwise the midi is dead. It was written into the ground by fashion writers for five months before it got into the stores."

Several members of a discussion panel made up of garment industry figures disagreed with Hirsch, saying hemlines were lengthening bit by bit.

"Longer clothes are here," said designer Helen Bass. "That's a fact. Mrs. Average America is going to take her clothes down inch-by-inch just as she took them up."

Panel members also debated the financial status of the garment industry, and some found it to be in pretty bad shape.

Martin Burger, president of Trimar Inc., said, "Let's not kid ourselves. Our industry has had a recession."

During the Wednesday showing of spring 1971 pantsuits and dresses by California designers, hemline lengths hovered below the knee, at midcalf or ankle-length. No mini was shown.

HINTS FROM Heloise

By HELOISE

Dear Folks:

My daughter-in-law gave me a beautiful white sweater recently. And happily, it came with an extra covered button.

(Some manufacturer finally woke up! I want to scream when I lose one and have to change them all.)

Most of us usually put the button away—just in case. Then when we need it, it can't be found.

I sewed it on the inside of the sweater exactly opposite the bottom button. It doesn't show when the sweater is buttoned or open, and after many washings will be the same shade as all the others.

will disconnect very easily if a little butter, oleo or oil has been rubbed on it at the time of attachment.

Molly Munly

Dear Heloise:

Our old house has over 30 windows, each window shade a different size.

Years ago I wrote the size of the shade on the back of the bottom part. Now when I need to order new ones, I already know the size I need without having to measure.

Dear Heloise:

Keep an embroidery hoop in your laundry room. It will hold material taut as you remove stains.

Dear Heloise:

Ever hear a water faucet go drip, drip, drip?

What it is really saying is gulp, gulp, gulp. Put a fruit jar under it and see how long it takes to fill up—that's a lot of money!

If you doubt it, telephone your local water board and see just exactly what it does cost you. They will give you the answer quick and truthful.

Dear Heloise:

I have found a large mirror very helpful in teaching left-handed persons skills that require usefulness of the hands.

Simply perform the act, art or whatever in front of the mirror, and let the left-handed person watch your image in the mirror.

The mirror reverses the procedure and makes the image look as if the action was being done left-handed.

Letter Of Laughter

Dear Heloise:

Last year I bought several large bunches of artificial geraniums to brighten our yard after I discovered my green thumb was behind the door sleeping.

I have just finished renewing them with red spray paint and they are once again beautiful and a topic of conversation.

Now, while the neighbors are tilling, fertilizing, planting, tending, watering, and weeding, I am free and off to play golf or other things I find more to my liking.

Dear Heloise:

After reading a hint on cutting carpeting for bathrooms by marking with pins before cutting, I thought you might like to print my husband's method which I feel insures a better fit.

He measured the room exactly and drew a miniature picture with measurements being noted in inches, then laid the carpeting (or rug) upside down on the living room floor and drew the exact measurements by ballpoint pen on the rug backing. (The picture is very important if your rug is not a solid color!)

He then cut it with a very sharp knife. (Be sure when cutting that you lift as you cut so you won't also cut the rug underneath.) It absolutely fit like a glove.

For the raw edges, where the finished edge had to be cut off, I bought a big can of the stiffest, super-hold hair spray and gently lifted edges and sprayed away, let dry and then repeated.

We were thrilled with the results, as it was just perfect.

I've found a new use for my tape measure.

My five-year-old started playing with my extra plastic tape measure a few weeks ago and asking me about the numbers on it.

He can now count to 50— with or without it. It's marvelous for teaching a preschooler his numbers.

Strip Steaks On Grill Please Men Everytime

To please a favorite man, husband or sweetheart, serve one food he never tires of—steak. Lured into a mood of contentment by the hearty beef aroma of tender strip steaks broiling over charcoal, he'll conclude you're a brilliant cook.

Yet preparing this choice entree takes little culinary experience. Just be sure to allow enough time for the charcoal to become covered with a light gray ash before putting steaks on the grill, reminds Reba Staggs, meat cookery authority of the National Live Stock and Meat Board.

Strip steaks are a fine choice for this special outdoor meal because they are cut from the loin, an especially tender section favored by beef-eating men.

Broiled Beef Strip Steaks

Beef top loin steaks, cut 1 to 2 inches thick

Salt and pepper

Let charcoal burn until covered with gray ash before placing steaks on the grill. If a grill thermometer is used, it should register about 350° F. for the cooking period. Place steaks on grill and broil 8 to 10 minutes. Turn, season with salt and pepper. Brown second side about 8 to 10 minutes. Total cooking time for a 1-inch thick strip steak will be about 15 to 20 minutes for rare, 20 to 25 minutes for medium. If the strip steak is 1½ inches thick, the total broiling time for rare will be about 25 to 30 minutes, for medium about 30 to 35 minutes. Two-inch steaks will require a few minutes more.

Nine Grid Teams Remain Unbeaten

High school football teams in the Upper Peninsula are now entering the fourth week of the 1970 campaign with nine schools still sporting unbeaten records, although two of them have been tied.

Gladstone, Holy Name, Wakefield, L'Anse, Escanaba, Crystal Falls and Even-Trout Creek are the seven schools still playing with unblemished marks, while DeTour and Engadine, two Eastern Upper Peninsula powers, have only a tie to mar their records.

Gladstone has the best defensive record of all teams in the U. P., as it has not allowed an opponent to cross its goal line in three games. Even-Trout Creek is also undefeated upon, but it has played only one game.

Engadine has allowed the most points to be scored against them among the unbeaten teams, 26, while Holy Name has allowed 8, Wakefield 12, L'Anse 14, Escanaba 19, Crystal Falls 20 and DeTour 22.

Top scoring team in the Upper Peninsula is Wakefield, which has scored 104 points in three contests for an average of just under 34.7 points per game.

Total points scored for the other unbeaten teams are Gladstone 96, Escanaba 94, Engadine 78, Holy Name 74, L'Anse 74, DeTour 66, Crystal Falls 64 and Even-Trout Creek 28.

Sault Ste. Marie and Cedarville have had the most points scored against them, each team giving up 116 points.

A look at this week's schedule finds unbeaten powers L'Anse at home against Houghton, and Crystal Falls playing host to Hancock on Friday night, while Wakefield is at home against Ashland, Wis., Gladstone entertains Marquette, Escanaba plays host to Kingsford, Holy Name travels to St. Ignace and Engadine hosts Cheboygan Catholic on Saturday. DeTour and Even-Trout Creek have the week off.

Kicker Scaring Hancock's Foes

HANCOCK (AP)—A 14-year-old, 145-pound high school freshman from Michigan's Copper Country doesn't look like a player who could strike fear in the heart of opposing football teams—but he does.

Last Saturday Steve Grandel is kicked his third field goal in three games as his Hancock team took a 10-8 victory over Lake Linden. It covered 24 yards and came with one second left in the first half after Lake Linden led 8-7.

What makes the young player's three field goals more striking is the fact that field goal kicking has been on the wane in the area, after having a strong popularity in the 1920s and '30s.

Grandel, who is an alternate quarterback, helped set up the Bulldogs' touchdown against Lake Linden with a screen pass that netted 62 yards.

His field goal in an 8-3 loss to Norway and a 3-0 victory over Ontonagon were the only points the Bulldogs made the first two games.

TACKLING TACTICS — Skipper Jim Hardy of Australia's Gretel II stands in cockpit as he races sloop away on starboard tack in an effort to escape Intrepid of the United States in the third race for America's Cup. Seconds later Bill Ficker of Intrepid came about to keep his cup defender in commanding upwind position. Intrepid went on to win the race by one minute and 18 seconds to take a 3-0 series lead.

Aussies Not Giving Up In America's Cup Race

NEWPORT, R.I. (AP) — Although Intrepid stood on the verge today of continuing the United States' monotonous domination of the America's Cup, the challenging Australians certainly haven't given up.

"We still can win this thing, and we're not giving up," said Martin Visser, tactician on Gretel II, knowing that it would take a near miracle for his yacht to overcome the 3-0 Intrepid lead in the best-of-seven race series.

"But it makes it a little difficult now to make four straight firsts. Still, we can do it." However, as bravely optimistic as the Aussies talked, during Wednesday's lay day, that 3-0 deficit and history will be quite a burden to overcome, although many observers still haven't decided that Intrepid is the faster boat.

Another of Gretel's problems may be that there are too many chefs in the kitchen. Jim Hardy, the skipper, hands over the starts to Visser. Then, on the long downwind runs, crewman David Forbes sails.

"Tactical efforts," said Bill Fesy, navigator of Gretel, were the reason she failed to catch and perhaps pass Intrepid in the second to last leg of the third race Tuesday.

The final winning time of Intrepid of 1 minute, 18 seconds scarcely reflects the closeness of the third race, which U.S. tactician Steve Van Dyck described as "enough to give me ulcers."

Faster Yacht
That race, along with the controversial second race last Sunday in which the Australians crossed the finish line first only to be disqualified later by the New York Yacht Club race committee, prompted the feeling that Gretel might indeed be the faster yacht.

That dispute over the collision at the start of the second race still hasn't quieted, although the Aussies have accepted it with a stiff upper lip.

A source close to the Australian team stated that there were disagreements, but that Ficker's opinions were taken first, and accepted "without question."

In any event, the Aussies haven't give up the ship.

"We could have and perhaps still win this match," said one of Gretel's hands. "Some day someone else is going to get this Cup, and it may yet be us."

The point totals, figured on 20 for first, 18 for second and so on down to one for 15th place, showed Arkansas State with 172 and Montana 160 points.

Akron, winner over Temple 21-0 and Butler 34-0, picked up two firsts and a total of 134 points for third place.

The 1968 and 1969 small college poll winner, North Dakota State, drew one first place vote and 117 points for fourth position. The Bisons were held to a 14-1 tie by Eastern Michigan in their opener and then whipped Montana State 30-8 last week.

Amazing Mets Make Move Again

By The Associated Press
The whispered story of the 1969 baseball season was that supernatural... perhaps even divine... help moved the New York Mets to the world championship.

There is a possibility now that the National League East race has reached the nitty gritty stage that the Mets are getting some extra help again.

—Item: The Mets, trailing Philadelphia 4-3 Wednesday night, find old friend Dick Selma on the mound at the start of the eighth inning. Selma, loser in the ninth the night before and fined $500 for his popoff after the game, promptly surrenders a two-run homer to Donn Clendenon and the Mets win, 5-4.

Pirates Lose

—Item: Pittsburgh, trailing Montreal 3-1 in the bottom of the ninth, scores a run on Coco Laboy's throwing error and has men on second and third with one out. Reliever Mike Marshall calmly strands the tying and winning runs by retiring pinch hitters Jose Pagan and Gene Clines to save the Expos' 3-2 victory.

—Item: Chicago, 2-1 losers to St. Louis and Bob Gibson in the first game of a doubleheader, trails the Cards 2-0 in the ninth inning of the nightcap. Glenn Beckert singles and Billy Williams tags his third double of the game. A wild pitch scores Beckert and advances Williams, the tying run, to third with none out. Rookie Jerry Reuss calmly mows down the next three hitters to nail down the victory.

—Item: The Mets who were in third place, 3½ games out with nine games to play and reeling on Monday, are second, two games out with seven games to play and alive again today.

Elsewhere in the National League Wednesday, San Diego shut out Atlanta 2-0, Cincinnati belted Houston 6-2 and San Francisco went 10 innings to beat Los Angeles 14-10.

Mets Rally

The Mets were behind 4-1 against the Phillies but knocked out Chris Short with a two-run rally in the sixth. Ironically, Clendenon, whose 21st homer won the game two innings later, crippled the early rally by slamming into a bases-loaded, none-out double play.

Selma, whose explosive post-game tirade the night before resulted in his fine by NL President Chub Feeney and nearly caused a walkout by the four umpires, was more reserved this time.

"I threw a curve ball and it hung," he said, claiming his clash with the umpires had not affected his performance. "Yesterday was yesterday," said Selma. "Today is today, and tomorrow is an off-day, thank God!"

Come Close

Pittsburgh came close but could not quite catch Montreal. Carl Morton, who won his 17th, carried a 3-1 lead into the ninth with a pair of hits by Don Hahn keying two Expo rallies.

Willie Stargell and Manny Sanguillen sandwiched ninth inning singles around a pop up and Laboy's throwing error scored one run and left the Pirates in position to win it on a hit. But Marshall bore down to get Pagan on a fly ball and Clines on a line drive to end it.

"I have no complaints," said Pirate Manager Danny Murtaugh. "We had a shot at them and didn't make the most of it. The Lord helps those who help themselves."

Overpowers Cubs

Gibson simply overpowered the Cubs in the first game, permitting just two hits. The big right-hander struck out seven and walked three en route to his 23rd victory of the season.

In the nightcap, Reuss permitted seven hits including three doubles by Billy Williams but bore down in the clutch, especially the ninth when he got Ron Santo, Jim Hickman and Tommy Davis with the tying run on third.

"We had enough chances," said Cub Manager Leo Durocher. "I couldn't have asked for any better hitters coming up in the ninth than Santo and Hickman."

The double loss pushed the Cubs to third place, 2½ behind with eight to play. The Mets and Pirates each have seven left with New York two behind. Chicago plays St. Louis and Pittsburgh takes on Montreal today while the Mets are idle.

Mauch Comments

"It looks like two of them are going to give it away," said Montreal Manager Gene Mauch. "I think it might wind up in a three-way tie and that would be the best way to decide it."

San Diego used home runs by Clarence Gaston and Dave Campbell to beat Atlanta with rookie Steve Arlin scattering seven hits to get the victory.

Pitcher Tony Cloninger drove in two runs with a homer and single, moving Cincinnati past Houston. Tony Perez hit his 40th homer for the Reds.

The Giants wiped out an 8-0 Dodger lead with nine runs in the seventh, the big rally being climaxed by Dick Dietz' grand slam homer. Then, after LA rallied twice to tie the score in the eighth and ninth, San Francisco rushed four more across in the 10th to win it. The last three runs came on Ken Henderson's homer.

Campbell Stays Quiet On Subject Of Tiger Manager

DETROIT (AP)—Amid speculation that Billy Martin will be soon named manager of the Detroit Tigers, General Manager Jim Campbell continues to withhold comment on his plans until after the season ends Oct. 1.

"I'm not saying a thing about our managing job one way or the other until the season's over," Campbell said after being asked Wednesday if former Minnesota manager Martin will get Mayo Smith's job.

Two weeks ago he said much the same thing: "When 1970 is over I'll have something to say about 1971... and not until then."

Rumors Spread

The continuing rumors of a new manager upcoming spread again Wednesday when the Detroit News reported that Martin will get the job.

"Battling Billy Martin is the choice to replace Mayo Smith as the manager of the Detroit Tigers," reported Watson Spoels tra, News baseball writer in a copyrighted story.

He quoted the 42-year-old Martin, however, as saying: "There's no way I can divulge anything. I've been talking to a few other clubs too."

Reached again later Martin, who worked as a Minneapolis radio sportscaster this summer, said: "A lot of people have been asking me that question, not only about Detroit but about Oakland and the only thing I can say is that I've talked to a lot of ball clubs and as far as I'm concerned I'm just waiting to make up my mind myself right now..."

Former Tiger

Martin played with Detroit in 1958 and was the five-time World Series second baseman for the New York Yankees. He was fired last year after managing the Minnesota Twins to the West Division championship of the American League. The year before the Twins finished seventh under the nondivisional set-up and Martin's firing created quite a stir.

Twins management, which subsequently hired former California Angel manager Bill Rigney to head the team, said Martin failed to communicate with the owner and sometimes mishandled the pitching.

In one incident outside a Detroit bar in 1969 the peppery Martin tried to break up a fight between Twins outfielder Bob Allison and pitcher Dave Boswell. Boswell took a poke at Martin who responded with a flurry of his own that knocked Boswell cold.

Handle McLain

If he comes to Detroit Martin must handle bad boy pitcher Denny McLain — if McLain does not remain suspended following a post season meeting with Baseball Commissioner Bowie Kuhn.

Smith's two-year contract expires at the end of this season. He reportedly makes $55,000 a year at the job, which he has held four years.

He managed Detroit to a second place finish in 1967 and last year, plus a World Series triumph in 1968. Currently the Tigers are 24 games behind Baltimore in the East and in fourth place.

Malinchak Put On Waivers By Lions

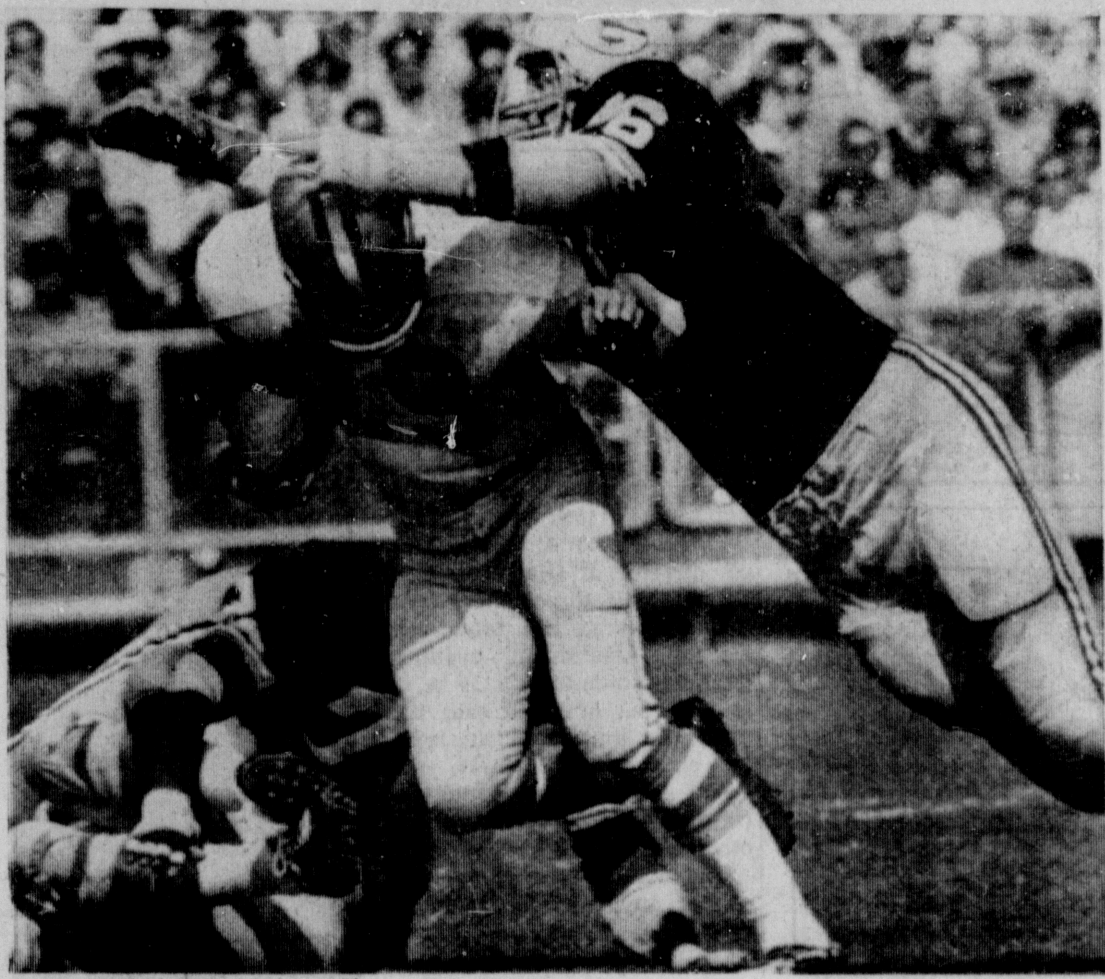

DETROIT (AP) — A Detroit Lions spokesman confirmed reports Wednesday that a fight broke out between wide receiver Bill Malinchak and defensive end Joe Robb Sunday night.

Malinchak, who has been on the inactive list due to an injury in an exhibition National Football League game, also has been put on waivers, the spokesman said.

He said the decision to put Malinchak on waivers had nothing to do with the melee, but said it was because the Lions have four other wide receivers.

The spokesman said the fight was "strictly a personal thing." He said the fight broke out after the Lions returned from Green Bay, where they beat the Packers Sunday 40-0.

Malinchak was put on waivers Tuesday. The Lions spokesman said he was not claimed Wednesday.

SMOTHERED UNDER — There were not too many bright moments for the Green Bay Packers in their 40-0 loss to the Detroit Lions Sunday, but on this play, Packer rookie Mike McCoy lowers the boom on Lion quarterback Bill Munson (19) for a six-yard loss. (AP Wirephoto)

Spartan Passer Looking For Points, Not Records

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP)

It must nearly break the heart of a young quarterback when he breaks a school record for pass completions but doesn't see even one carried in for a touchdown.

That's what happened to Mike Rasmussen of Michigan State in the 42-16 walloping by the University of Washington last week at Seattle.

The left-handed slinger gets another chance this Saturday against another Pacific-8 foe, Washington State, in the friendly home grounds of Spartan Stadium.

Rasmussen, a junior college transfer from Fresno, Calif., completed 17 of 35 tries against the Huskies for 215 yards.

The previous high for MSU was 16 each by Steve Juday against Indiana in 1964 and Dan Werner against Purdue last year.

The 6-foot redhead found a pair of fine receivers too. Billy Dupree and Gordon Bowdell caught six each for 103 and 101 yards, respectively.

But, of course, the Spartans were ambushed by Sonny Sixkiller, the quarterback named Associated Press Back of the Week for his heroics in passing the Huskies down the touchdown trail.

Both Washington and Washington State had 1-9 won-lost records last year—proving the record books don't mean a thing, especially when you are dealing with West Coast teams able to recruit so much junior college talent.

Washington State also has not won more than three games in the last seven years with one exception, a 7-3 won-lost mark in 1965.

The Cougars already have equalled last year's win mark.

They scored well in the opener but lost to Kansas 48-31. Last Saturday, a second half surge led to a 44-16 triumph over Idaho.

Washington State also has a promising young quarterback, Ty Paine, a 6-foot-3 sophomore, who completed 18 out of 44 tries for 285 yards and one TD in two games.

Bernie Jackson, senior fullback, has been carrying the load for the Cougar running game with 231 yards in 41 carries.

Coach Duffy Daugherty is reshuffling his offensive line, partly due to injuries and also because the Spartans were out-rushed by the smaller and lighter Washington line in their first test.

It is hoped linebacker Jay Breslin will return, recovered from a knee injury, to bolster the defense.

Wolverines To Battle Sixkiller, Washington

SEATTLE (AP) — It's a nice surprise to be picked The Associated Press Back-of-the-Week, Sonny Sixkiller said, but it's not much compared to winning.

"I want to be known as somebody that quarterbacked a winning team and beat the big teams," Sixkiller said Wednesday about the accolade. "It's no big thing to be widely known. It's more important to be on a winning team. Publicity and press are no big deal."

Sixkiller will be facing Michigan's relatively green defensive backfield in Seattle Saturday. However, the Wolverines secondary of roverback Frank Gusch, halfbacks Bo Rather and Tom Darden, plus safety Jim Betts worked well together in last Saturday's 20-9 triumph over Arizona despite the fact that only Darden started last year.

In some ways Sixkiller says he's had enough publicity and press, especially for a sophomore quarterback with only one game under his belt. Of course it was quite a game. Sixkiller gained 313 yards on 16 of 35 passes for three touchdowns in the Washington Huskies' 42-16 intersectional football victory over Michigan State. But he was being written about even before the game.

The name Sixkiller combined with the fact he's the grandson of a Cherokee Indian chief made him "a gimmick," Sixkiller said. It was fun at first, but after a while it got old and Sixkiller got tired of it. Now he feels it will be the Huskies' victories that will be written about.

"We really want to prove that we're a good team," he said. "When somebody predicts you'll be last in the Pacific-8 Conference it really upsets you. You want to prove you're a good team and the only way you can prove it is by winning. And with a 1-9 record last season it doesn't take much to get a team up."

"And winning your first game is bound to put more life in you," Sixkiller added. "We know we can win now and we have more of a winning attitude. And when we beat Michigan this week it's going to be that much better."

It's also going to get that much harder. Michigan is ranked No. 10 in the nation, Michigan State was ranked about No. 9—in the Big 10.

Still, it was an impressive debut for the 19-year-old Tahlequah, Okla., native. He had touchdown passes of 59, 37 and five yards and led the offense for three quarters of the game. Those three touchdown passes were as many as anyone ever has thrown against Michigan State. And the 598 yards the Huskies gouged out was the most yardage the Spartans ever gave up in a game.

"Going into the game I kept thinking to myself that I had to keep my poise, keep my cool," Sixkiller said. "And I felt that if I did that and the receivers and the protection were okay, things would work out okay. I knew, the team knew, that we were going to win."

All this assurance was from a youth who was the No. 3 candidate in the spring. Then senior Gene Willis hurt his leg and sophomore Greg Collins hurt his shoulder. Sixkiller stepped in and took the job. But he'd never have gotten the job a different way.

He and Willis went to Ashland, Ore., High School together. It was Willis who told the Huskies Sixkiller could make it in major college football.

"I really felt it was too bad that Gene got hurt," Sixkiller said. "I would like to have seen how the competition came out. I don't want to feel I would have been second to anybody."

Northern Cager Has Knee Surgery

MARQUETTE — Northern Michigan basketball co-captain Hugh Friday has undergone surgery for removal of bone chip in his knee and is recovering "very satisfactorily," according to head coach Glen Brown.

"It was a very sudden thing," explained Brown. "The knee locked on him during the night while he was sleeping and a bone chip was discovered to be the problem. Doctors feel it was an old injury that was just now revealed."

Friday, a senior from Pekin, Ill., was NMU's third leading scorer with a 14.7 average last season.

Country Club Ladies' Results

Margaret Zimmerman won the Day's Event at the Escanaba Country Club's Ladies' Day Wednesday, scoring a net 31 under the Callaway system.

Sharon Barr took second place with a net 33 and Judy Schultz had a net 34 for third.

Best individual scorers were Milly Boyce 49, Sally Fontaine 50, Nan Farn 51, Ruth Needham 51 and Marilyn Christianson 52.

Gladstone Chorus Group Organizing

A Gladstone Community Chorus is being formed and anyone from the area who wishes to participate may attend a meeting to be held Wednesday, Sept. 30, at 8:15 p. m. at the Choral Room across from the High School entrance on 10th St.

David Erfourth, choral music director at Gladstone High School, will direct the chorus and rehearsals are tentatively set for Wednesday evenings from approximately 8:15 p. m. to 9 p. m. Erfourth said this particular time, after the regular church choirs meet, will result in the least amount of conflict with night classes and other events.

The chorus is open to anyone of any age who is interested.

PTA Meets, Hears Talk By Fleet

The Gladstone PTA held their opening meeting at the James T. Jones School Monday evening. The program included a talk by Superintendent of Schools Wes Fleet, and a discussion on the scholarship fund by Dr. D. A. Jondrow and Don Pfotenhauer.

The new teachers and teachers aides were introduced by Fleet and Mrs. Harold Weeter. PTA president, presented presidents pins to Mrs. Carl Olson and Mrs. Robert Rivard.

Mrs. Henning Bjork's 6th grade and Mrs. Weycker's fourth grade won the room count and refreshments were served by officers of the PTA.

Court Decision On Free Books Causing Trouble

WARREN (AP) — The State Supreme Court's decision requiring school districts to provide free books and supplies to all students is making some Warren Consolidated Schools students unhappy.

Twenty-seven members of an advanced English class at Warren Mott High School said in a petition sent to school officials that the decision is "hindering our education instead of helping it."

The students said their teachers has told them they are not allowed to buy paperback books for required course readings. At the same time, they have been told the district does not have the funds to supply them with the books.

"This makes it impossible to go beyond grammar and the dull short stories in our textbooks," the students said.

Corinne Laskey, the class' 27-year-old instructor, said she offered to try and get around the ruling by having the students buy their books, but supplying free copies to any student who couldn't afford to buy his own. She says she was immediately told by school officials this would be illegal.

A spokesman for the school administration said he was sympathetic with the students and their teacher but that little could be done. "We don't want to create the impression that Mott High School doesn't have the proper materials to get the job done," he said. "Let's put it this way. If we just had a few more materials, we could do an event better job."

Split Vote

WASHINGTON (AP) — Michigan's two senators split Wednesday on the 60-19 roll call vote by which the Senate passed the campaign broadcast spending bill.

Sen. Philip Hart, D-Mich., voted for the measure, and Sen. Robert Griffin, R-Mich., voted against it.

Ontario Banning All Studded Tires

TORONTO, Ont. (AP) — Ontario's provincial government announced Tuesday a ban on studded automobile tires, which officials predicted would avert $127 million in highway damage over the next 10 years. The ban takes effect April 30, 1971.

The ban also will apply to vehicles from outside the province traveling on Ontario highways.

Provincial highway and transport officials said the safety value of studs was outweighed by new hazards arising from highway damage. Violators would be subject to fines of $20 to $200.

Nuclear Power Appears To Be Gaining In Nation

By HARRY STEINBERG
NEW YORK (AP) — Nuclear power, which now supplies enough electricity for more than five million Americans, is expected to become a major source of electric power by the end of this century.

"We anticipate that 30 years from now nuclear power plants will be generating over one-half the nation's total electric power," Atomic Energy Commission Chairman Glenn T. Seaborg said in a recent speech.

Currently, only two per cent of the nation's annual 321.4 million kilowatts, comes from nuclear-powered generators.

There are now 16 such generators operating and they produce over 5.1 million kilowatts annually, according to the AEC. A kilowatt—1,000 watts—is the amount of electricity one person uses at any given time.

Problems Listed

The future of atomic energy for generating electricity seems bright. The AEC reports that 55 reactors, with a capacity of 44.5 million kilowatts, are now under construction. Thirty-seven more, with a capacity of 35.9 million kilowatts are on order. Nine more plants, with an eight million kilowatt capacity, have been announced.

The problems facing the continued growth of nuclear energy are: cost, construction time and the ability to meet environmental controls.

The AEC reports that a large nuclear-powered station—one with a capacity of one million kilowatts—can cost up to $40 million more than a similar fossil-fueled plant.

Construction Lax

Among the reasons for the greater cost of a nuclear-powered plant are the added costs of reactor safeguards and the fact that there is virtually no standardization in the manufacturing process. They have to be built to specification.

A special year-long period of AAC licensing review means that nuclear plants take longer to construct. The AEC reports that while a fossil-fueled plant takes about four years to build, a nuclear plant takes up to six years to build. This extra construction time also adds to the cost of financing a project that can cost upwards of $200 million.

Waters Overheated

But the scarcity of fossil fuels, and their rising prices may yet make nuclear-powered plants more economical than they appear now.

While nuclear plants give off no particulate or gaseous pollution, some critics charge that they overheat surrounding bodies of water.

Nuclear generators, like fossil fueled generators use water as a coolant, so they must be built near lakes or rivers. The problem posed by the nuclear units is that the water returned to the lake after use as a coolant experts say, is about 30 per cent hotter than water discharged by fossil-fueled plants.

"We're beginning to find that changing the temperature of the water by one degree can effect not only the fish life, but also the biological growth, plant life and fish hatching for many miles around," says Peter Borrelli, East coast representative of the Sierra Club, a conservation group.

May Help Fish Life

However, Dr. James H. Wright, director of environmental Systems Department at Westinghouse Power Systems ways that raising the temperature of water may actually help some forms of marine life.

As an example he cites a shellfish agricultural program being run by the Long Island (N.Y.) Lighting Co. which is growing shellfish in reactor-

Visiting Japan

YOKOHAMA, Japan (AP) — American playwright Tennessee Williams arrived today for a seven-day visit to Japan.

Williams, who wrote "Cat on a Hot Tin Roof" and "A Streetcar Named Desire," said he planned to see historical sites and collect material for a short story.
